Every person is a reflection of what he has been. Each moment of every day is a vital step on the road to what a person will become. Every moment of living is an important experience, no matter how painful or ecstatic. During the year 1975-1976, we have experienced many moments of happiness, of sorrow, of hard work and good times.

Each moment, no matter how dreary, dull or dazzling, has been very important in making each individual at Fort Collins High School what he or she is. The moments of this year have changed us and left us with many memories, some wonderful and some painful. The 1976 LAMBKIN has attempted to capture many of these moments and preserve them as living memories throughout the pages of this book.

Look to this day!
For it is life,
the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the verities and realities of your existence:
The bliss of growth;
The glory of action;
The splendor of beauty;

For yesterday
is already a dream,
and tomorrow
is only a vision;
But today, well lived,
makes every yesterday
a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow
a vision of hope.

From the Sanskrit

8:00 a.m.—A New Day at FCHS Begins

Hundreds of sleepy students hurry to their first period classes. As they stumble up the three flights of stairs to Psychology, or tie on their aprons for Home Ec., many wonder what the day will be like. They think about the paper for American History they didn't have time to write, or the Chemistry test for which they studied so hard. Some students worry about where they will go for lunch, and whether that special "someone" they are going to ask to the dance will go.

8:05 a.m. - The halls are still. Nervous students in Algebra II are busy taking a test that will determine their grade; the band can be faintly heard playing above. The silence of the halls is broken momentarily as laughing friends arrive after going out to breakfast at the Junction. Meanwhile, outside in the Student Center, last Friday's big game is discussed over a cup of hot chocolate . . .

Today has begun. Each part of the many hundreds of parts that make up a day are beginning to come together to create a whole and complete new "today."

For three years, twenty-four hours a day, our lives . . .

revolve around high school. A typical day includes much more than merely attending classes for five or six hours. High school is also going out to lunch, working hard during swimming practice, and going to Pizza Hut after the game. New friends are met while studying in the Student Center; stories are exchanged in the halls between periods; secrets are shared during stolen moments away from the crowds. Band and athletic practices, choir and play rehearsals, club and class meetings keep many students working hard both before and after school each day. Our friendships, dreams, successes and failures are all related in some way to high school during these three years.

When Evening Comes,

many students at Fort Collins High hit the books. Most usually find it hard to miss that good movie on television, or to hang up the phone. But with the Variable Scheduling program that was incorporated last year at FCHS, every student had many more classes to prepare for each night. With the responsibility of so many new and even interesting classes, students made themselves go to work. Often, students labored for hours writing papers, reading chapters and preparing for tests.

If the weekday nights were mainly hard work, the weekend nights were mainly play. As Friday finally became a reality, everyone grew excited about the weekend ahead. Students looked forward to many different things. Perhaps it was a party, or the big game, or maybe just getting together and taking it easy.

Whatever happened on both weekday nights and weekend nights were important experiences in completing the day. This "today" in the lives of the students at FCHS is over, but as the sun rises in the morning a new day will be born. This new today will be greatly influenced by yesterday's "today." What was done and dreamed and dreaded will carry on as an important factor in each new today.

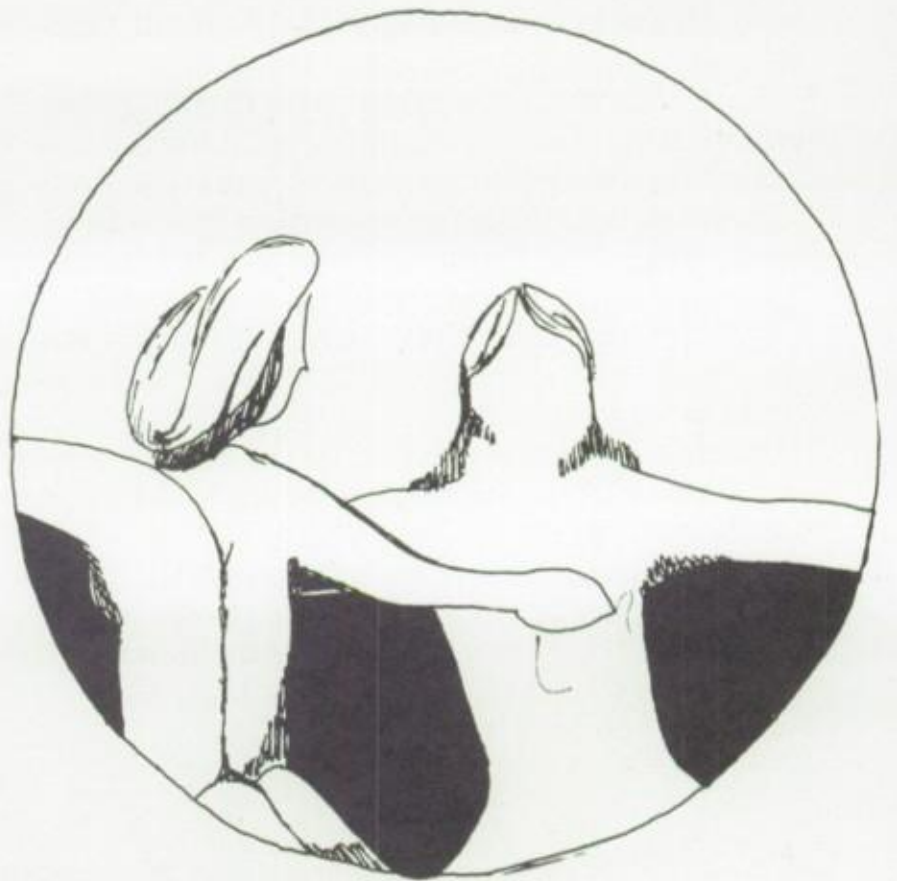

But we must remember that it is still a NEW day. We must not live in or regret the past. We must not dream away today in our hopes for the future. We must take what we have experienced and learned from yesterday, and use this knowledge to help us better use every moment of each new day. Only in this way may we fully live our lives to their fullest and reach our dreams for tomorrow.

STUDENT LIFE

Lambkins Celebrate Traditional Homecoming

The leaves turn gold, brown, and red. Fall has come to Fort Collins, and with fall comes Homecoming. To many Fort Collins High School students, this was a special Homecoming—perhaps because it was their first or last.

Memories of the 1950's were brought back to the halls of Fort Collins on Nostalgia Day. Guys wore their baggies and slicked back their hair; the girls wore bobby socks and pointy-toed tennis shoes. The day was completed with an evening sock hop in the Student Center.

Spirit plays an important part in any game, but winning the Homecoming game was especially important to the FCHS football team which has not lost a Homecoming game in many years. On Friday, the day of the game, an enthusiastic pep assembly was held. Mr. Curtis Johnson, the Honor Alum for 1975, and the 1946 State Champions Lambkin Football team were honored.

French Field was the site of the Homecoming Game. The Lambkins were victorious over Centaurus, 24-7.

Memories of Homecoming week will live on forever in the minds of the participants. Playing in the Homecoming game, dancing with that special guy at the sock hop, the magic of the bonfire, . . .

The 50's dance was enjoyed by many, including Ruth Griswold and Mark Miller.

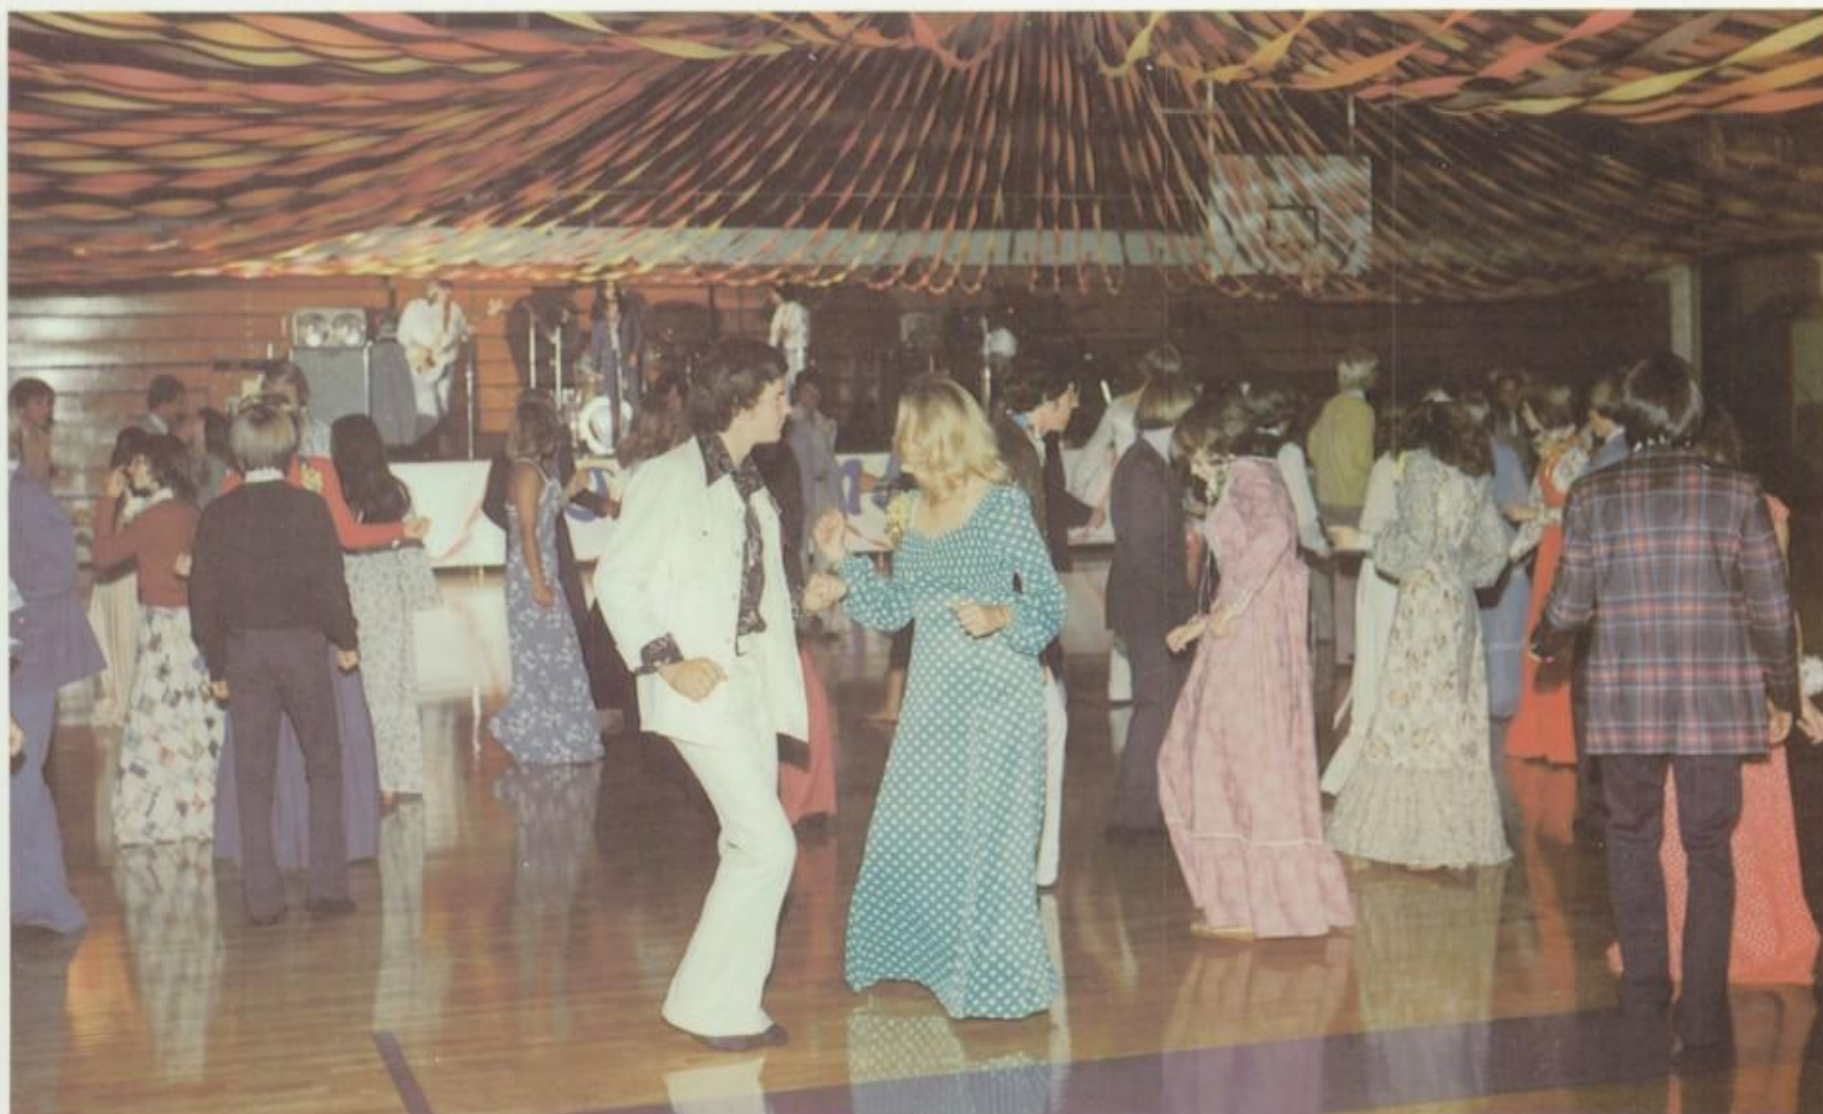

Boosters cheer as Brent Penfold, no. 84, and David Miles, no. 68, dash through the Homecoming hoop.

One of the more important and significant Homecoming traditions was restored this year. The Bonfire had returned to our Homecoming activities. However, there were new rules to follow when collecting wood. No outhouses or timber could be gathered, and there was a $\frac{3}{4}$ ton limit on pickups. Students also had to turn in crushed aluminum cans with the loads of wood. The Bonfire took place at the Riffenburgh playground, and everybody had a real "blazing" time.

Saturday, Oct. 4, was the annual Homecoming Dance. This was the grand finale to top off the week of fun. The theme portrayed was "Souvenirs." The boys' gym was decorated for the dance that lasted from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. Everybody had a dynamic time as they rocked to the music of the band Fat Max. However, the time ran out; the weeks festivities came to an end for another year.

Spirit Is Evident

Teams were chosen and practices were scheduled for the annual Powder Puff Game. It was an exciting game with the Senior team winning over the Juniors by a score of 14-8.

Bike day took place with the start of October. Class competition was keen with the Sophomore bikers riding the most two-wheelers to classes that day. In the evening our Sophomores put on the one-act play "The Domestics." Their performance was outstanding.

The students of FCHS got a chance to "pork-it-up" on Thursday in the Student Center where there was plenty of excitement and good food. The spirit generated by the evening carried over to the following nights as evidenced the successes of the game and the dance.

The Homecoming football game caused "stand-up" excitement as Lambkins overpowered Centaurus, 24-7.

Doug Hansen and Dale Brown chat amiably as Lambkin mascot, "George," watches the Homecoming game.

HOMECOMING CANDIDATES

The Sophomore candidates and their escorts are: LeAnn Bartran, Meg Christensen, Ann Jordan, Ada Hickman; Chris Mitchell, George Alers, Jeff Starke, and Kelly Nuttall.

The Junior candidates and their escorts are: Kristin Anduss, Pam Haverfield, Teresa Glanz, Kim Carey; Tom Templer, Rich Parke, Jason Zoellner, and Chuck Bayard.

The candidates for the 1975-1976 Homecoming Queen and King are: Carol Svedman, Linda Coker, Diane Olsen, Kathy Jansen; Frank Stonaker, Sam Chismar, Kevin Bachus, and Jeff Armstrong.

SADIE HAWKINS

Kathy Hinshaw and Terry Johnson reigned as Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner.

The scene for Sadie Hawkins 1975 was the ever popular atmosphere of the Student Center decorated with hay. Fun and excitement filled the air. Everyone seemed to enjoy the band as they were constantly dancing, even the faculty shook a leg! Then there were the couples who found themselves getting married or ending up in the jail behind the hay.

PROM 1975

Prom, in honor of the Senior Class, was the major task of the Junior Class Council. The council, headed by Tammy Schmidt, worked many hours in order to have a successful night. Many good decisions were made as evidenced by all the smiling faces on Saturday, May 15, 1975.

The dance, "Hands of Time," was held at Fort Collins High School in the boys' gym. Music for the night was furnished by Canary. The highlight of the evening was when the drummer of the band lit his drums on fire while he did a solo. The crowd enjoyed watching him while they drank punch. Excitement was in the air when Dave Sisson crowned the Prom Queen, Laura Merrill. There couldn't have been a better pair for the 1975 Prom Queen and King.

Decorations for Prom included gold fish in a pond.

Pep Assemblies Arouse SPIRIT

Where do you see people make fools of themselves? At the pep assemblies of course! Although some students were embarrassed about participating in spirit contests, these moments provided the student-body and faculty with laughter and fun. Pep assemblies were also a time when coaches predicted the outcome of up-coming games. Entertainment varied at different assemblies and everyone has a special lasting memory.

Tom McMillen, Carol Svedman, Alan Feit, and Kathy Jansen participate in a fun filled pep assembly.

A Memorable Tradition

For hundreds of years the traditional folkdances have been passed down and enjoyed by thousands. This fun-filled event takes place at the CSU student center every Wednesday night. Whether one goes to dance, watch, or just listen to the music, it is enriching and spirit lifting. Newcomers are always welcome and often join in to the motions of Amos Moses, Salty Dog Rag, Sestorka, Mayim-Mayim, Ace of Diamonds, and many more.

Couples circle the floor at Folk Dancing.

Many join in to do the traditional dances during a weekly gathering at Folk Dancing.

Young Life Promotes Christian Ideals

Young Life was a special event for many students at FCHS. Young Life met on Monday nights and guided students toward a Christian life. Singing, laughter, and impromptu skits were regular activities. Young Life also has winter and summer camps, which provides relaxation for those who participate. The many experiences offered by this organization result in lasting insight into what Christian living is all about.

Tower Troupe Presents THE MIRACLE WORKER

Helen Keller, a blind deaf girl, is familiar to everyone. Her story, THE MIRACLE WORKER, was presented this year by Tower Troupe. Cast for the play included Cathy Crocker, Joe Weixelman, Judy Bergquist, Chris Jones, Shawn Fitzpatrick, and Joy Hogge. Many long hours were put into the play by all involved, and the result was an excellent production.

Thespians

Involved in Theatre

Thespians was a club for people who were interested in theatre. In order to become a member, each person had to earn many points by acting in productions and/or doing technical work.

Activities of the Thespians included initiation, a spring play, and a spring picnic. The group also attended various plays together.

A sudden noise in the wings brings some surprised expressions during dress rehearsal.

The 75-76 drama season got off to a great start when Tower Troupe presented the sophomore one act play entitled "The Domestics." Written along the same lines as "Beacon Hill," it was produced as a part of the Homecoming Festivities. The play starred Kit Sutherland and Joe Britton, and was directed by Mr. Loy.

Vaudeville '76 Presents the Red, White, and Blue

"Vaudeville," each year the name is the same but the acts are always different, except for a few like the Women's Auxiliary Corpse. Will we ever forget them? The theme for this year's Vaudeville was the "Red, White, and Blue," very appropriate for the year of the Bicentennial. The show was a great success with the involvement of many talented people. The songs, dances, skits, and even good, old, baton twirling made this year's Vaudeville quite an entertaining show.

National Forensics League Had A Winning Season

The National Forensics League (NFL) is run, sponsored, and coached by Mr. Alan Legg. Forensics is a type of activity that many people don't know anything about.

Forensics categories includes Team Debates, Lincoln Douglas Debates (which is done by a single person rather than a team), Humor, Drama, Poetic Interpretation, Speech, and Extemporaneous Speaking.

Tournaments require a lot of extra time and effort by each individual student. Besides spending a whole Saturday at a school tournament, buses leave at rather obnoxious times-for Denver tournaments, buses have been known to leave at 5:30, 5:45, and 6:00 in the morning.

NHS New at FCHS

The National Honor Society was a new club at FCHS. It was designed to give special recognition to outstanding students. New members were inducted every semester. To be a member of the National Honor Society, students must have a 3.7 grade point average for two semesters. They must also receive high ratings from teachers who know their characters, leadership and service abilities well.

Three FCHS students competed on the television program "It's Academic." Wayne Karaki, Scott Pfalzgraff, and Pat Thomas made up the FCHS team which competed against teams from Littleton and Arvada High Schools.

"It's Academic" was based on the question answer point system of the College Bowl. The teams from various Colorado high schools competed for the grand prizes, which consisted of scholarships.

The three who participated were chosen from a field of 35 students, and had been preparing for the show since March 1975. Their sponsors were Mrs. Janet Bacon, Mr. Carl Stampa, and Mr. Don Yost.

Student Council Expands Communications

Student Council dealt with many different activities throughout the year. Many of those were dances and social activities which included Homecoming Week and Sadie Hawkins. Other activities with which they were also involved included curriculum, tardy policy, and variable scheduling.

Meeting twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday, 7th hour, Student Council set forth to better its relationships with the students, administration, faculty, and the surrounding community. They became a "close-knit" group of people that had to be able to work together. This was unlike any other class where there was usually a teacher or instructor. Council had to set its own goals, and then had to strive for those goals. Doing this, Student Council tried to accomplish the wants and needs of others.

The 1975-76 Student Council officers are: Treasurer, Susanne Merrill; President, Brian Klemsz; Vice-President, Ruth Porter; and Secretary, Julie McClellan.

YEARBOOK

Getting started on the 1976 Yearbook meant putting in spare time during the summer hours. Committees were organized to sell ads, and by September many ads had already been sold. News of Mrs. Young leaving the FCHS faculty did not slow or dampen the progression of the staff. Mr. Bandhauer enthusiastically took on the responsibility of Yearbook's sponsor. The hard work of the staff led to the successful completion of the 1976 LAMBKIN.

Mrs. Katrina Graydon is the sponsor of the paper. She took over this task after Mrs. Aimee Young moved early in the school year. SPILLED INK changed its appearance from last year. A new size and heading adorns the paper, perhaps helping to account for its increased popularity. Marlys Reed, editor, and Julie Birkhofer, assistant editor, organized and prepared the paper for publication. The entire staff worked many hours to produce a school paper which was of excellent quality.

One-Two- Three UP

The FCHS Marching Band had another "dazzling" season this year. With fireworks bursting overhead, and sometimes landing on unsuspecting marchers, the band entertained pre-game and half-time audiences. Their performances varied from dashing haphazardly onto the field and marching off to precision pin-wheels. The band, led by drum major Steve Wemple, also marched in the CSU Band Day Parade.

Rousing Pep Band

This year's pep band has a wide variety of personalities, though they all get together and play spirit-lifting songs and keep the beat going. Chris Bryant is the leader of this enthusiastic group. Lots of extra time is spent at practices and attending school activities which have a need for a rousing pep band.

Boosters Activate Changes

Boosters were always found yelling their hearts out at a game or involved in fun filled activities. Dad's Night, Secret Sister Week, Homecoming Marching, and Booster Dance were just some of the highlights. Boosters also tried something new this year. Each individual booster had a secret sports person, and they decorated lockers on the day of the game. This idea proved to be very successful.

From Exploration to Education

This year FCHS welcomed Mrs. Patterson to our science department. She also is the sponsor of science club. Members visited the atmospheric science school at CSU in the fall. They also took a field day at Rocky Mountain National Park which offered a scenic environment for learning. Members also prepared special projects to enter in the Longs Peak Science Fair held annually at CSU. For our nation's 200th birthday, they made a bicentennial chart showing the progress of the sciences.

C-Club Brings Lettermen Together

C-Club was made up of varsity letter winners, both boys and girls. They met once a month on the club meeting day.

The lettermen participated in many different activities, including initiation for incoming lettermen, a donkey basketball game, and a spring picnic. Other activities of the club included putting together programs for different sports events.

International Club Binds Cultures

International Club was composed of mainly French, Spanish, and German students. However, students did not have to be in a foreign language to join this club.

This year, the club sponsored activities to introduce its members to the customs and traditions of foreign countries. An international dinner was held, in which food from many different countries was served. After dinner, folk dances were demonstrated by the students.

The International Club Dinner was a success, and included a demonstration of folk dancing.

CASO

Many people have heard of CASO, but what does it stand for? CASO stands for Chicano Awareness Student Organization. The main purpose of this club was to create an understanding between chicanos and anglos. They also tried to further their knowledge of both cultures. The club's main activity for the year was having a Halloween party for children with disadvantages.

FHA Teaches Homemaking Skills

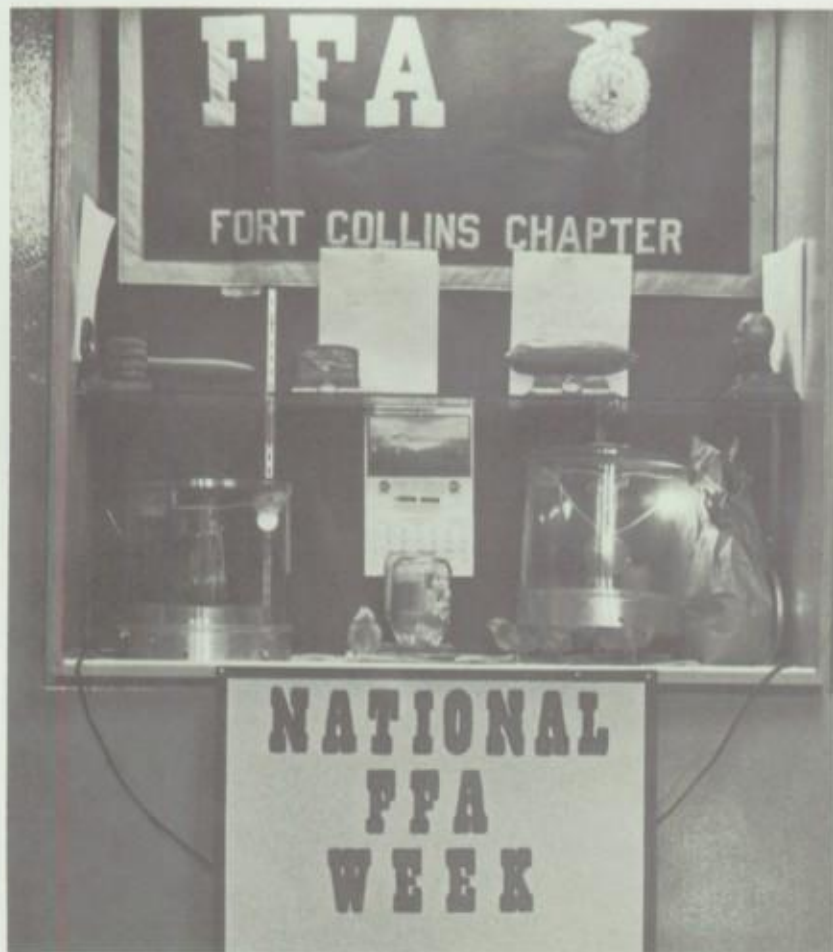

Members of FHA had a very busy calendar this year. Spending time with their adopted grandparents and bake sales kept them involved with the school and community. Before Christmas, members went on a shopping spree in Denver at Cinderella City and enjoyed a relaxed dinner at Casa Bonita. In January they had a district meet in Greeley where the girls could run for officers and committee members. FHA also had their annual Valentines day cards and carnations for sale. In the spring a fun-filled afternoon was held for the girls and their parents when FHA held a picnic. The year had gone fast for all the members who grew close and shared themselves with one another.

Members include: Ann Linton, Terri Murray, Kim Niswender, Katherine Nelson, Sponsor, Mrs. Crockett, Cathy Loetz, and Tammy Guild.

FFA Encourages Agricultural Leadership

A wide variety of curriculums were carried through by the members of FFA. This program helped students in leadership, citizenship, and in supervised occupational schedules. FFA's annual Christmas tree sale was held at convenient downtown locations throughout Fort Collins. Many lasting skills and memories were enstored in all the members.

From Classroom To Business

There are many clubs organized to get people together to have fun, or raise spirit, but these four clubs were also organized for the community as well as the individual. In clubs such as FBLA, COE, HERO, and DECA, those involved learn about themselves, careers, and their community while having fun. If all are actively involved, each club is like a family where everyone is concerned about each other and everybody helps each other. These clubs are very beneficial to those who participate and take them seriously.

Seniors

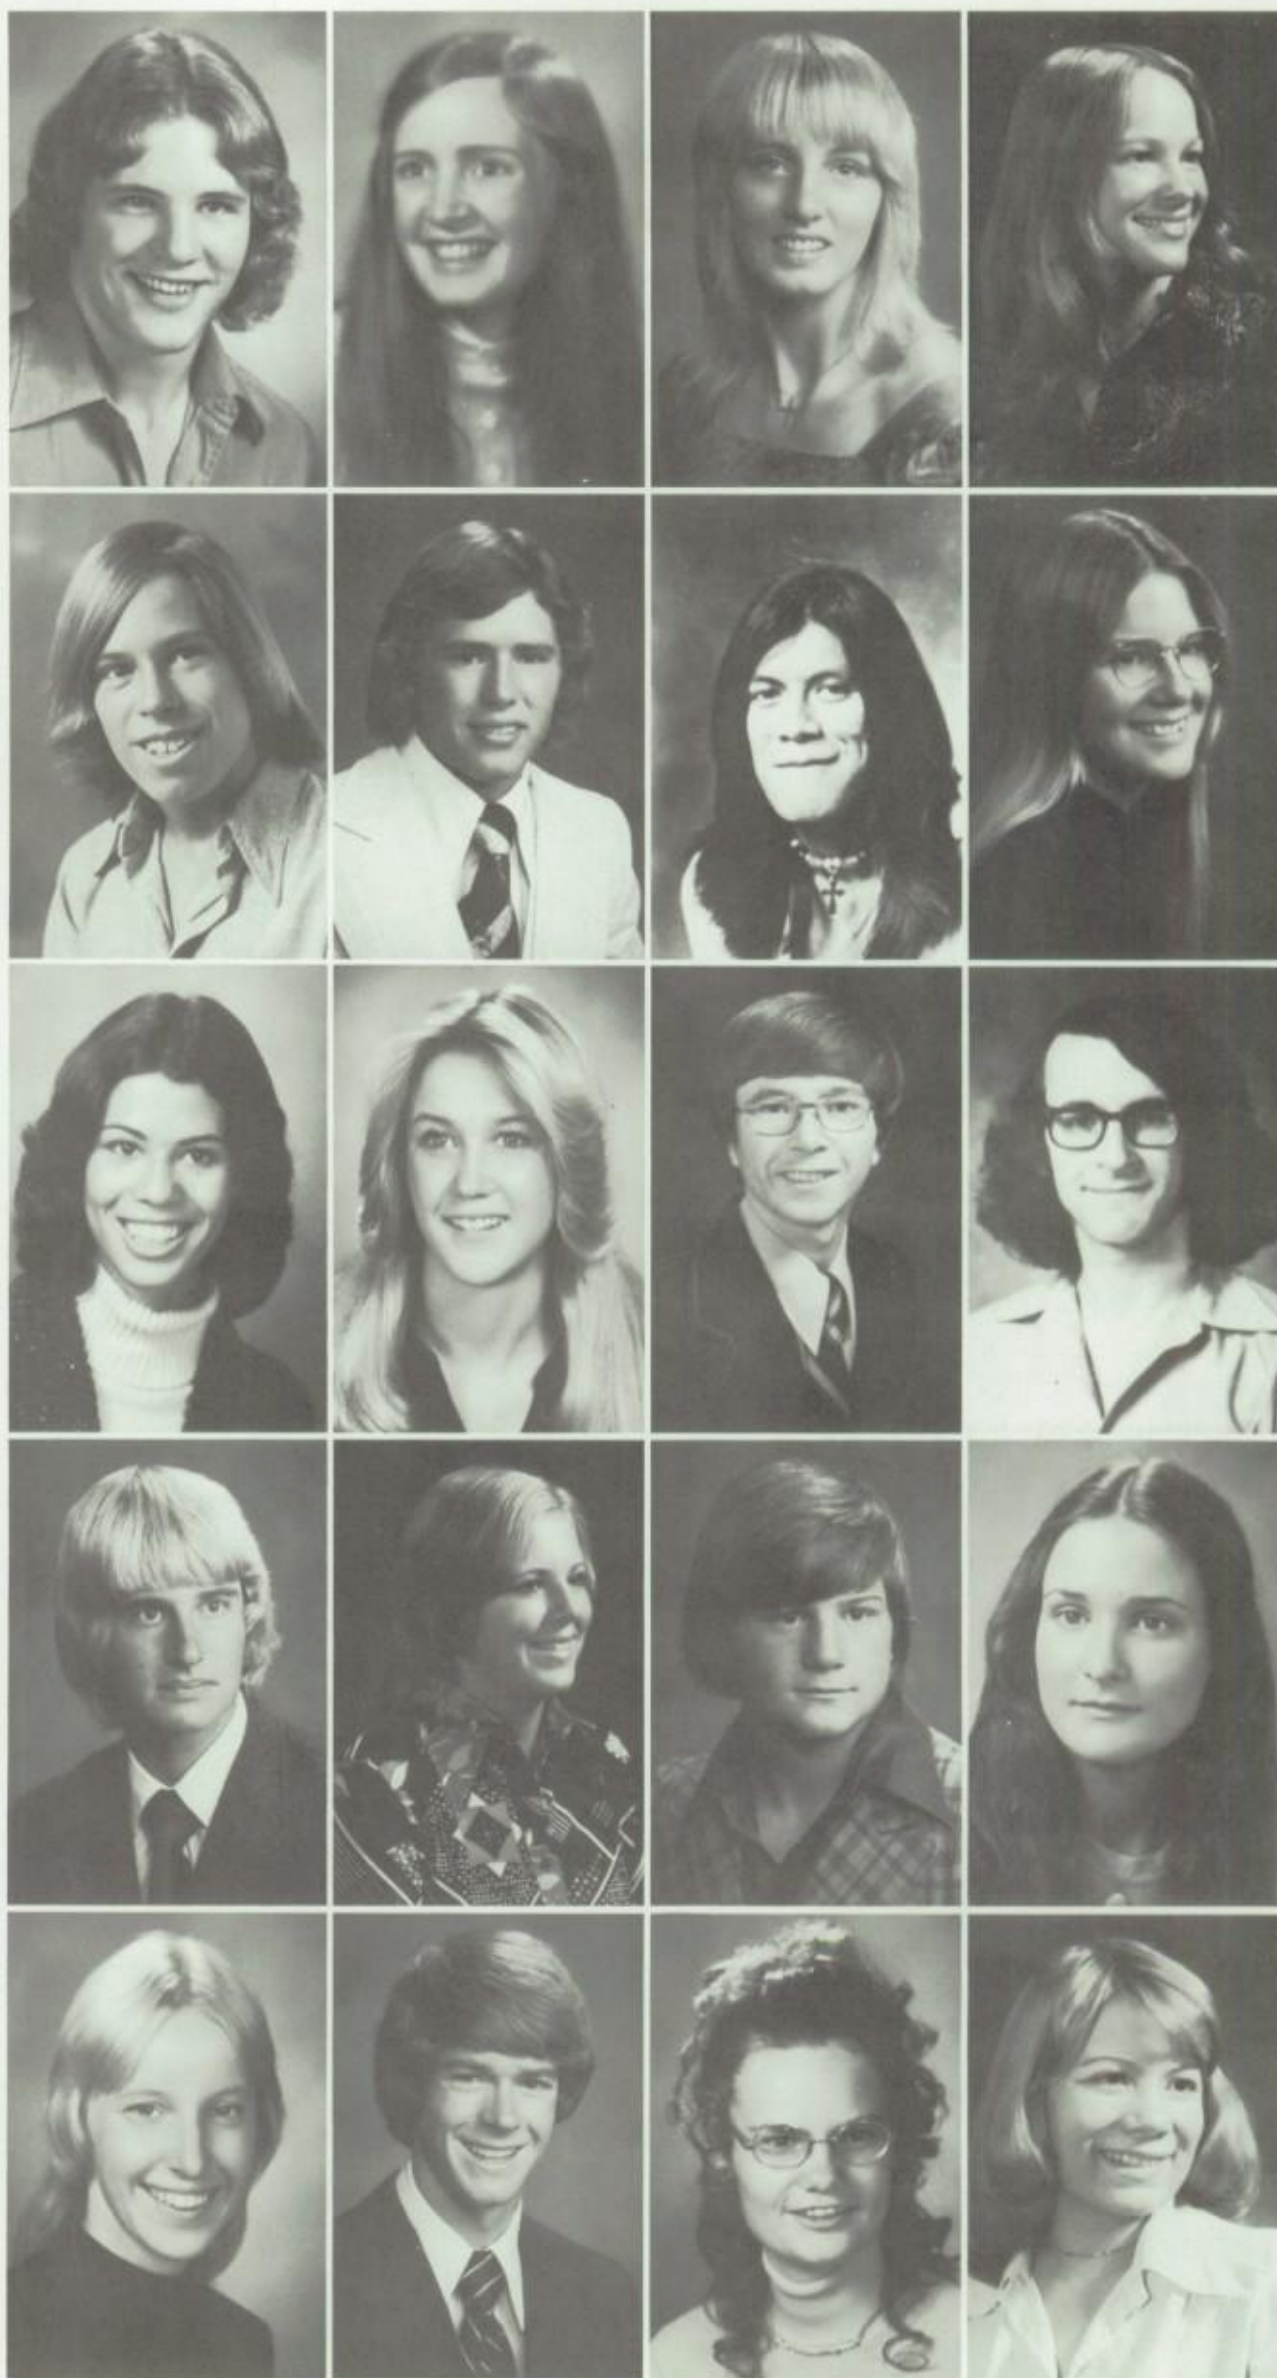

'76 Makes It Happen

The graduating class of '76 was not a typical, every-day senior class. The class of '76 had the unique experience of graduating in the Centennial-Bicentennial year. The seniors showed their spirit for Fort Collins High School, Colorado, and the nation in many ways. Hopefully, each senior contributed to the betterment of FCHS some way in his three years here. The class of '76 had many outstanding students, helping the school, the community and themselves to become better.

Outside the school, Pat Ward, Student Council president, represented Colorado in a Bicentennial essay contest in Boston. Sonia Alers had the honor of being chosen Fort Collin's Junior Miss. Wayne Karaki, Pat Thomas and Scott Pfalzgraff represented FCHS on the TV quiz show, "It's Academic."

SENIORS EARN HONORS

On the sports scene, the class of '76 had many excellent participants. Seniors Dave Sisson and Bob Vanscoy were named to the All-Conference Golf Team. Terry Johnson, All-Conference Cross-Country Team member, placed second in district and eighth in state. Lambkins named to the All-Conference Football Team included seniors Bob Deibel, Tom Livingston, Dave Naftz, and Rick Townsend.

SENIORS PLAN FUTURE

Each member of the class of '76 went through the trials and tribulations of being a senior. Taking ACT and SAT tests were very important steps to most seniors. Applying to and choosing a college were very important decisions to many seniors. Seniors breathed a little easier after first semester was over with and they had been accepted to that all-important institute of higher learning. Not all seniors planned to go on to college. Marriage, travel, work or bumming around a year were some of the alternatives.

GRADUATION FINALLY ARRIVED

Senioritis, that dreaded disease, struck almost every senior sometime in the year. But senioritis did not strike soon enough to the dismay of the juniors and sophomores as the class of '76 came through and won the Homecoming spirit trophy.

The class of '76 had a rowdie, fun-filled three years at FCHS. What senior could forget cruising College, winning that oh-so-important game, cheering and boosting the team to a victory, staying out all night . . . the memories go on and on.

For some seniors graduation came too soon; for others it came not soon enough. Graduation meant going out alone, and making decisions. The class of '76 will find this hard, but equipped with years of education, they will make it.

Boy's And Girl's State Proves Rewarding

Boy's and Girl's State provided a chance for four Fort Collins High Seniors to learn about the United States Government's system. The students joined several hundred other students from throughout the state to create a political society. The delegates set up a government structure and made laws to guide it. The delegates found a deeper understanding of the complicated processes involved in actual legislation by writing bills and working through the numerous steps toward enactment. Dave Sisson, Tim Wickersham, and Wayne Karaki went to Boy's State and Carol Svedman attended Girl's State. They were chosen to go by their leadership and involvement in school activities.

Lambkin Royalty Candidates

This year the Lambkin Staff is happy to honor twelve exceptional Seniors as Lambkin King and Queen candidates. They have been chosen for their academic achievement and involvement in school activities. The Lambkin King and Queen candidates were chosen from the top 20% of the Senior class, and then ranked according to the number of points they earned by being involved in various school activities. The two people having the highest number of points were selected Lambkin King and Queen.

All the candidates chosen were involved in a wide variety of activities, especially sports, music, and drama. They also showed exceptional leadership and excellence in the activities they were involved in. The 1976 Lambkin Staff is proud to recognize these outstanding people.

1976 LAMBKIN QUEEN AND KING

Laura Merrill

Letters, Leadership, and Lambkin Spirit describe Laura Merrill. Laura has lettered in basketball and tennis two years, and has competed in the State tennis meet. She has shown leadership as Vice-President of Boosters and as class Treasurer her Junior year. She also worked hard as a committee chairman in Student Council for two years. Laura led the Orchestra to an outstanding year as Concert Master and first chair Violin her Senior year. A member of the top 10% of her class, Laura is also a member of the National Honor Society. Lambkin students have shown their feelings towards Laura by voting her Booster Attendant and Prom Queen. Because of these outstanding qualities, Laura Merrill has been chosen Lambkin Queen.

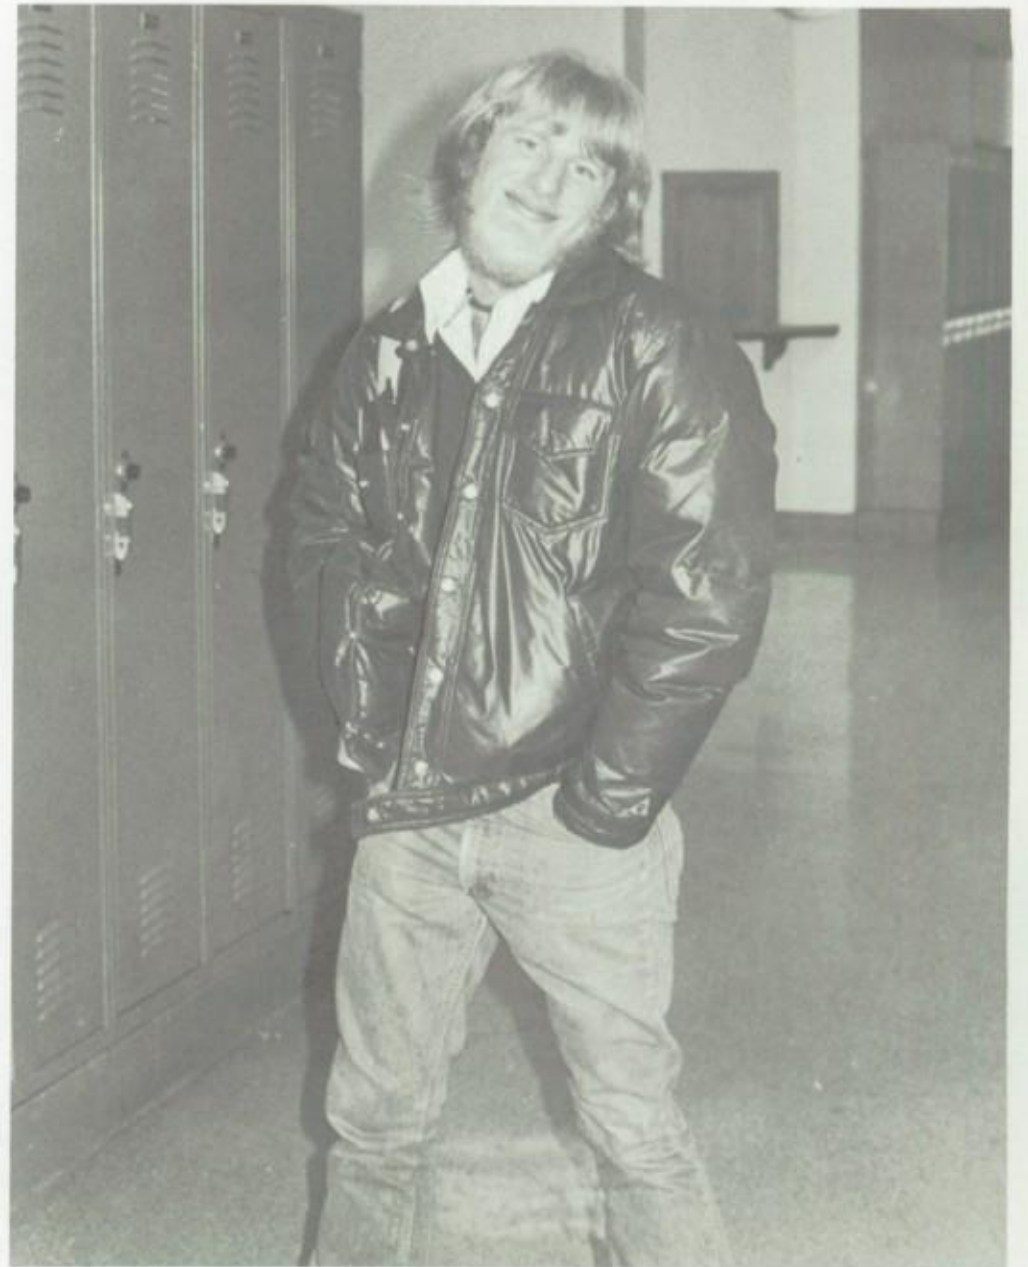

Byron Winn

Sports and music have kept this Lambkin busy. Byron Winn is a three sport man and does well in all of them. Byron has worked hard all three years in Cross Country, Swimming and Track, and has earned many letters for his dedication. Byron is also very musically talented and has shared these talents three years in A Cappella and Orchestra. He has attended All-State Orchestra three years as well as All-State Choir his Sophomore and Junior years. Byron was president of the National Forensics League. He was also a member of the top 10% of the Senior class and the National Honor Society. Byron's record of athletic achievement and music excellence has made the 1976 Lambkin Staff proud to name him Lambkin King.

Juniors had the advantage of "sitting on the fence or being halfway up the mountain and taking a rest." The members of the class of '77' didn't have the apathetic attitude toward school that seniors had, or the apprehensive attitude of the sophomores. Unlike many years in the past, the junior class was not lost in the middle. The class of '77' proved that they were indisposible in the running of FCHS.

Being In The Middle Isn't As Bad As "We" Thought

The Middle year of high school is somewhat like being a middle child. The Juniors didn't let this bother them as they went through the year. Juniors gained prominence and contributed significantly to Fort Collins High School.

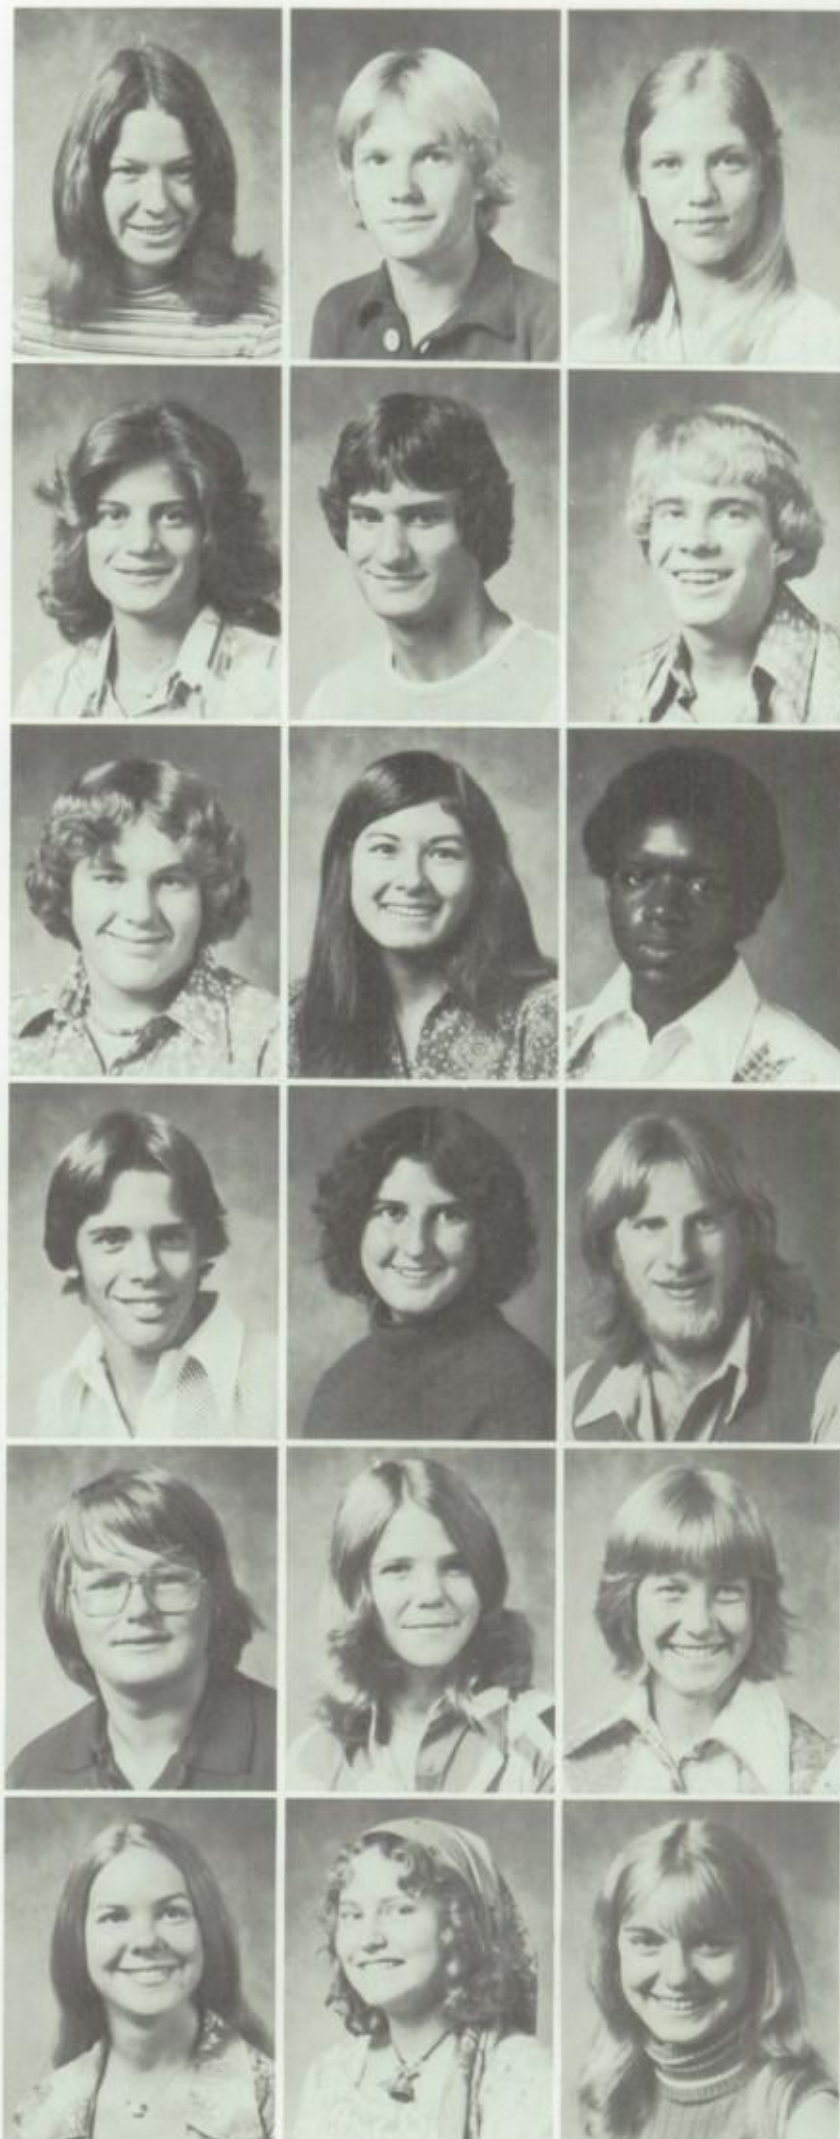

Even though being the middle class can be frustrating, it proved to be better than being an awkward sophomore. Most juniors seemed to agree with the sentiments expressed by one member of the class of '77, who said simply, "It feels good not to be a dumb Sophomore."

Involvement Shown By Juniors

Juniors left their mark on all aspects of school life. Most of the major parts of the fall play, "The Miracle Worker", were played by Juniors. Judy Bergquist played the blind Helen Keller, Kris Jones played her teacher, Annie Sullivan; Shawn Fitzpatrick played James Keller, and Cathy Crocker played Mrs. Keller.

Sports showed a number of Junior standouts. Football player Doug Cross was named to the All-Conference First Team. Tom Templer started off his second season of swimming at FCHS by qualifying for state in an early meet.

Juniors join in Homecoming

Homecoming week had an added attraction for the Juniors, the Bonfire. They worked long and hard hours to guard the wood they had collected, and managed to keep most of it despite a few sneaky seniors. But the Junior girls could not manage a repeat victory over the senior women in the powderpuff game. During halftime of the Homecoming football game, Kristen Anduss was named Junior Attendant.

Juniors Are One Step Higher on the Ladder

Of course, Juniors had many advantages over the sophomores. Juniors had some choice in their locker location, and most of them moved from third floor. Juniors also managed to get into the classes they wanted when pulling cards.

The Junior Class Council was very busy earning money and preparing for Prom. During the Christmas Season, Juniors decorated second floor with plenty of mistletoe and crepe paper. The Junior class Christmas tree won the tree competition between classes, and all Juniors received a candy cane from Santa Claus. The Junior Class Council also sponsored a footstomping, body-shaking sock-hop after a basketball game.

Sophomores Struggle

Being a Sophomore is a frightening, yet exciting; hectic, yet fun experience. A new Sophomore feels a sense of awe when walking through the proud pillars for the first time.

The class of '78 was no different. Many of them had some exposure to high school through older brothers and sisters, summer cheerleading, football or basketball practices.

Most Sophomores managed to find their niche at Fort Collins High School. For some it was sports, cheerleading and boosters. For others it was drama, music and forenics.

Sophomores soon learned that juniors and seniors don't bite. But the stereotype of "Dumb Sophomore" seemed to come from the mouths of the upperclassmen more times than any Sophomore would care to count.

Sophomores Make Their Mark

The Sophomores first big contribution to FCHS was the one-act play, "The Domestics." Joe Britton, Kit Sutherland and Allen Stetson had the major roles in this excellently done drama.

Sports were a standout spot for Sophomores. Dave Paranka helped along the cross-country team and lettered in the process. Sophomore volleyball player Jennifer Ellis was voted to the All-Conference team. Golfer Steve Vanscoy helped the golf team place second in district. He was also named to the All-Conference Golf Team. Basketball player Luis Amoros was a standout on the varsity team.

78'ers Full Of Spirit

The class of '78 showed they really had school spirit. After a humiliating pep assembly when a certain sophomore (Steve Vanscoy) was forced to eat pickles, Sophomores proved they did have spirit by often out-yelling, out-screaming, and out-whistling the other classes.

Homecoming Week proved to be a winning week for the underclassmen. Sophomores managed to win the Bike Day contest-After all, how many Sophomores have their own cars? They also caused quite a scandal at the bonfire. After being declared winners of the wood gathering game, a controversy developed and a tie was declared with the Seniors.

Sophomore Orientation ended up being boring for most Sophomores, but useful to some. It helped the Sophomores to get to know FCHS better. It also helped ease scheduling decisions. Sophomores realized early that free time was for studying and they learned to use this time wisely.

The Sophomore Class Council started off the year by ordering class rings. When the rings came, tradition dictated that a Sophomore must have his ring turned 78 times before he could take it off.

Variable Scheduling Is Preferred

Many teachers at Fort Collins High School were kept busy this year with variable scheduling, now in its second year at FCHS. Most teachers preferred variable scheduling over conventional scheduling. A plus for the faculty and administration came when the school board formally approved full variable scheduling for Fort Collins High School.

FACULTY

The FCHS cooks: Eva Benson, Elizabeth Heutzenroeder, Carol Specht, Kathryn Perea, and Gertrude Bigge.

Mrs. Patterson uses some body language to explain an important concept.

Cathy Schumacher presents a trip to Mexico to race winners Mr. Cates and Mrs. Brooks.

Mr. King Retires

Mr. Justin King, head of the Math Department, retired this year. He has been an excellent teacher and contributor at FCHS for many years. FCHS will miss this outstanding person.

Extra-Curricular Activities Occupy Teachers

One aspect of faculty life more evident this year was the extra-curricular activities of many teachers. Students began to realize how much extra time teachers spent with teams, clubs, the class councils and various other activities. Boosters relied heavily on Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Brooks for help and advice. Many coaches helped with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and C-Clubs. Class Sponsors spent many hours advising class councils and sponsoring activities. There were numerous dance and music programs requiring many hours of extra work for the teachers involved. And what teacher can forget the time he or she sponsored a Booster Bus, which always proved to be an unforgettable experience.

Teachers Prepare Students

Three teachers who put in an extra amount of time and effort were Mrs. Janet Bacon, Mr. Don Yost and Mr. Carl Stampa. They tutored the team of students who appeared on the quiz show "It's Academic." This called for many nights of teaching and explaining on the part of these three dedicated teachers.

COLORADO

The Spirit Of

1876

Lives On In

1976

LEADERS

What was it like in 1876? America was celebrating her 100th birthday, while Colorado was just being born. On August 1, 1876, the "Centennial State" earned a place in the United States of America. However, Fort Collins' history starts twelve years before Colorado's. On October 24, 1864, Fort Collins got its name, and reputation as a permanent military post. Much of this early history can be admired around town today.

In the same manner, 1976, Colorado's 100th birthday, continually opens new frontiers for many people. FCHS was confronted with new classes, clubs, and experiences. These new vistas are strengthened by their founders or leaders, who aim for upmost success.

George R. Strauss came west in 1860, as a wagon driver. He built a two-story log cabin on the Cache la Poudre River. Strauss died in a flood, but the cabin escaped destruction. This structure is still standing much as it did 100 years ago.

Each year more people come to Colorado and make it their home. Just recently FCHS has welcomed many Newcomers. The long journey on a wagon train went out when the automobile came in. However, horses are still very important in many people's lives. The Rodeo has provided, to young people at FCHS, a thrilling and endless sport.

SCHOOL

The first schoolhouse in Fort Collins started in 1866. By 1878, 134 students were attending Fort Collins' Schools. This schoolhouse is now a private residence on the border of three streets; Oak, Peterson and Jefferson.

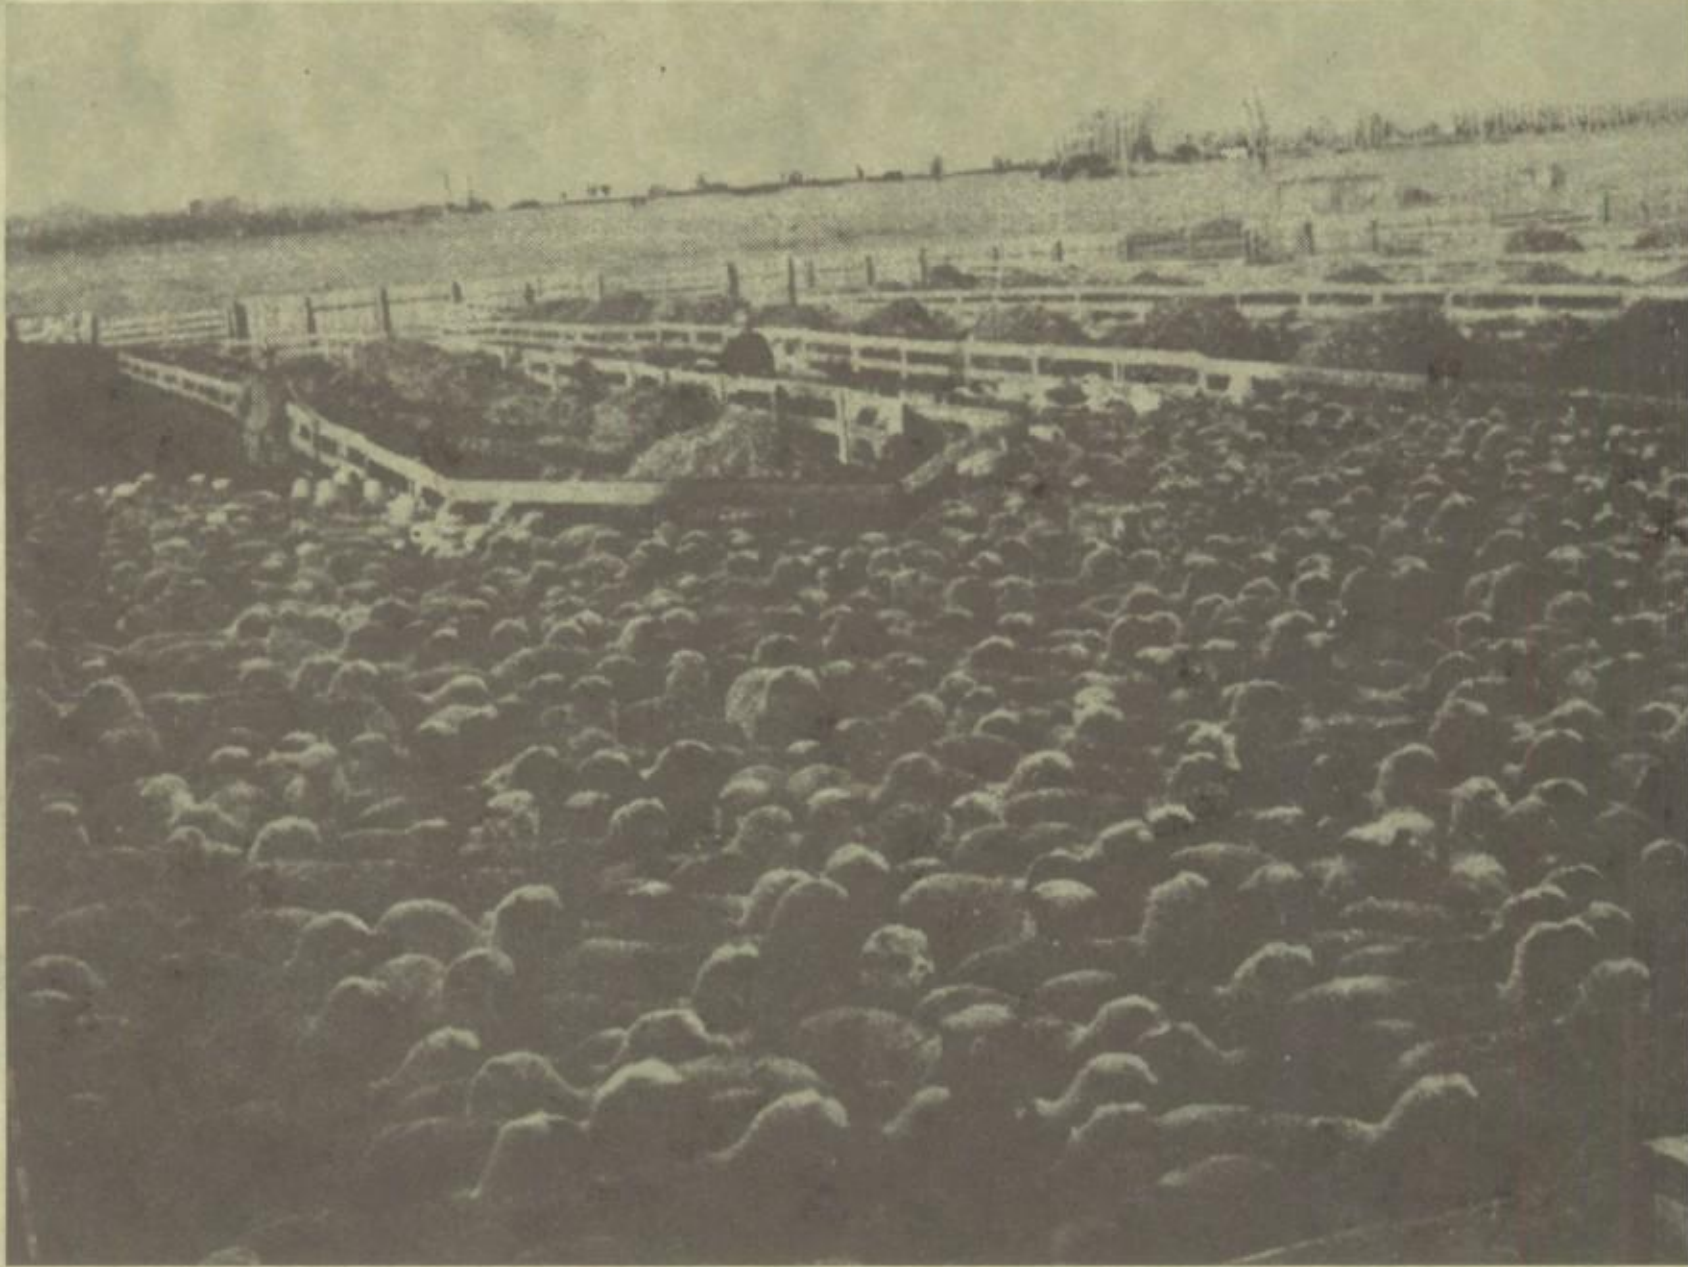

First Schoolhouse In Fort Collins

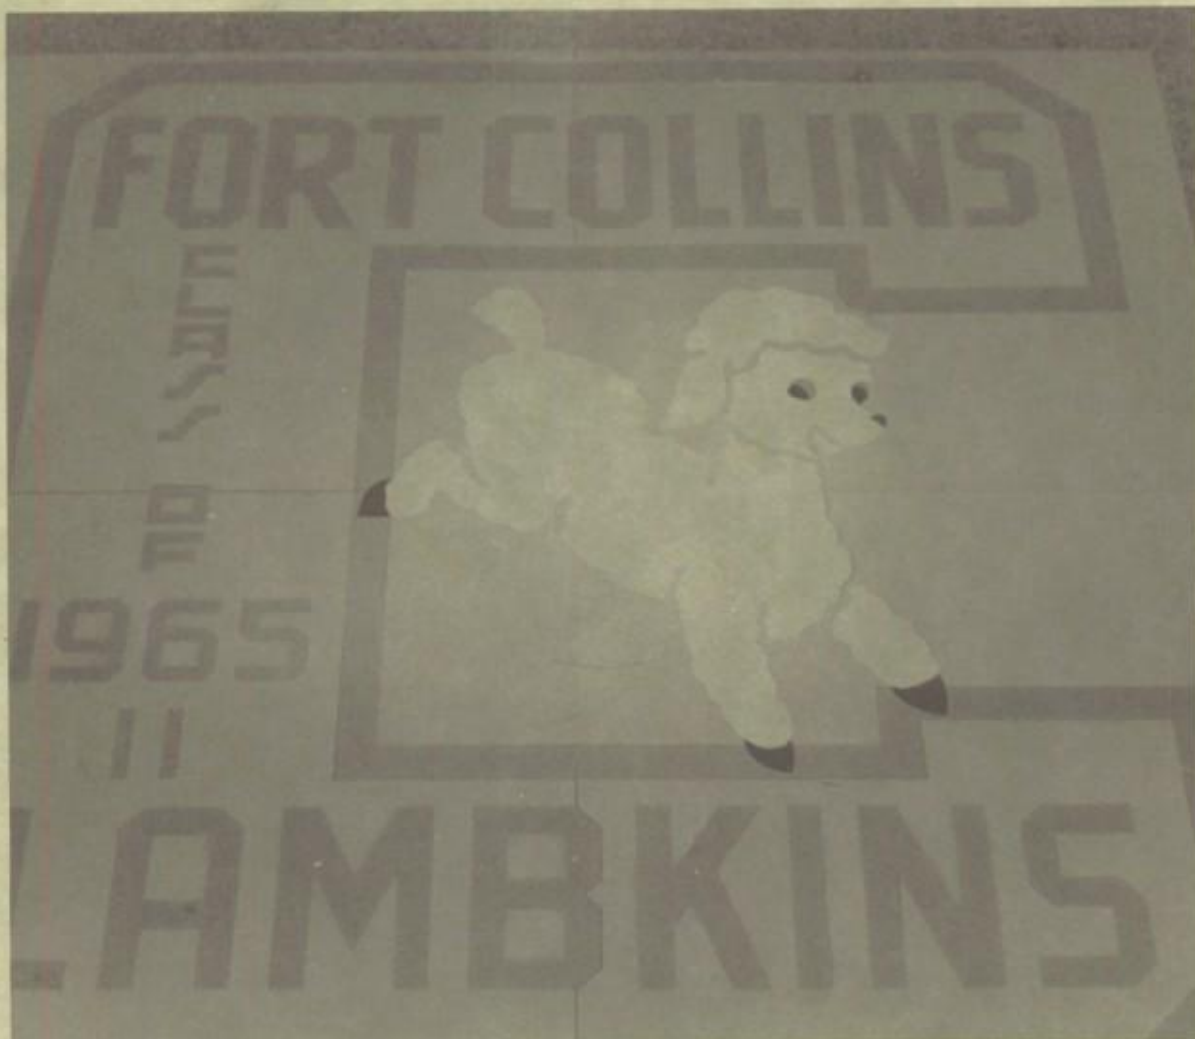

Education has taken a large step from the one room schoolhouse, to three large High Schools. Both guys and gals at FCHS are constantly reminded that their education takes top priority. Students are pressured from their parents and society to have the right education on which to build their future.

LAMB BOOKINGS

"Eat Lamb, 10,000 coyotes can't be wrong." Fort Collins wasn't introduced to the Lamb industry until 1890. Between 1885 and 1890, farmers and stockman suffered with the decline in value of cattle and horses. Money was scarce and business became dull; unless producers thrive the town cannot prosper. By accident, farmers took up sheep feeding as a new industry. Shortly, the business proved profitable. The population of the town increased by 1000 people and 400,000 lambs.

LAMBKINS . . .

It should now be clear why Fort Collins High Schools' mascot is the Lambkin. And we should be proud!

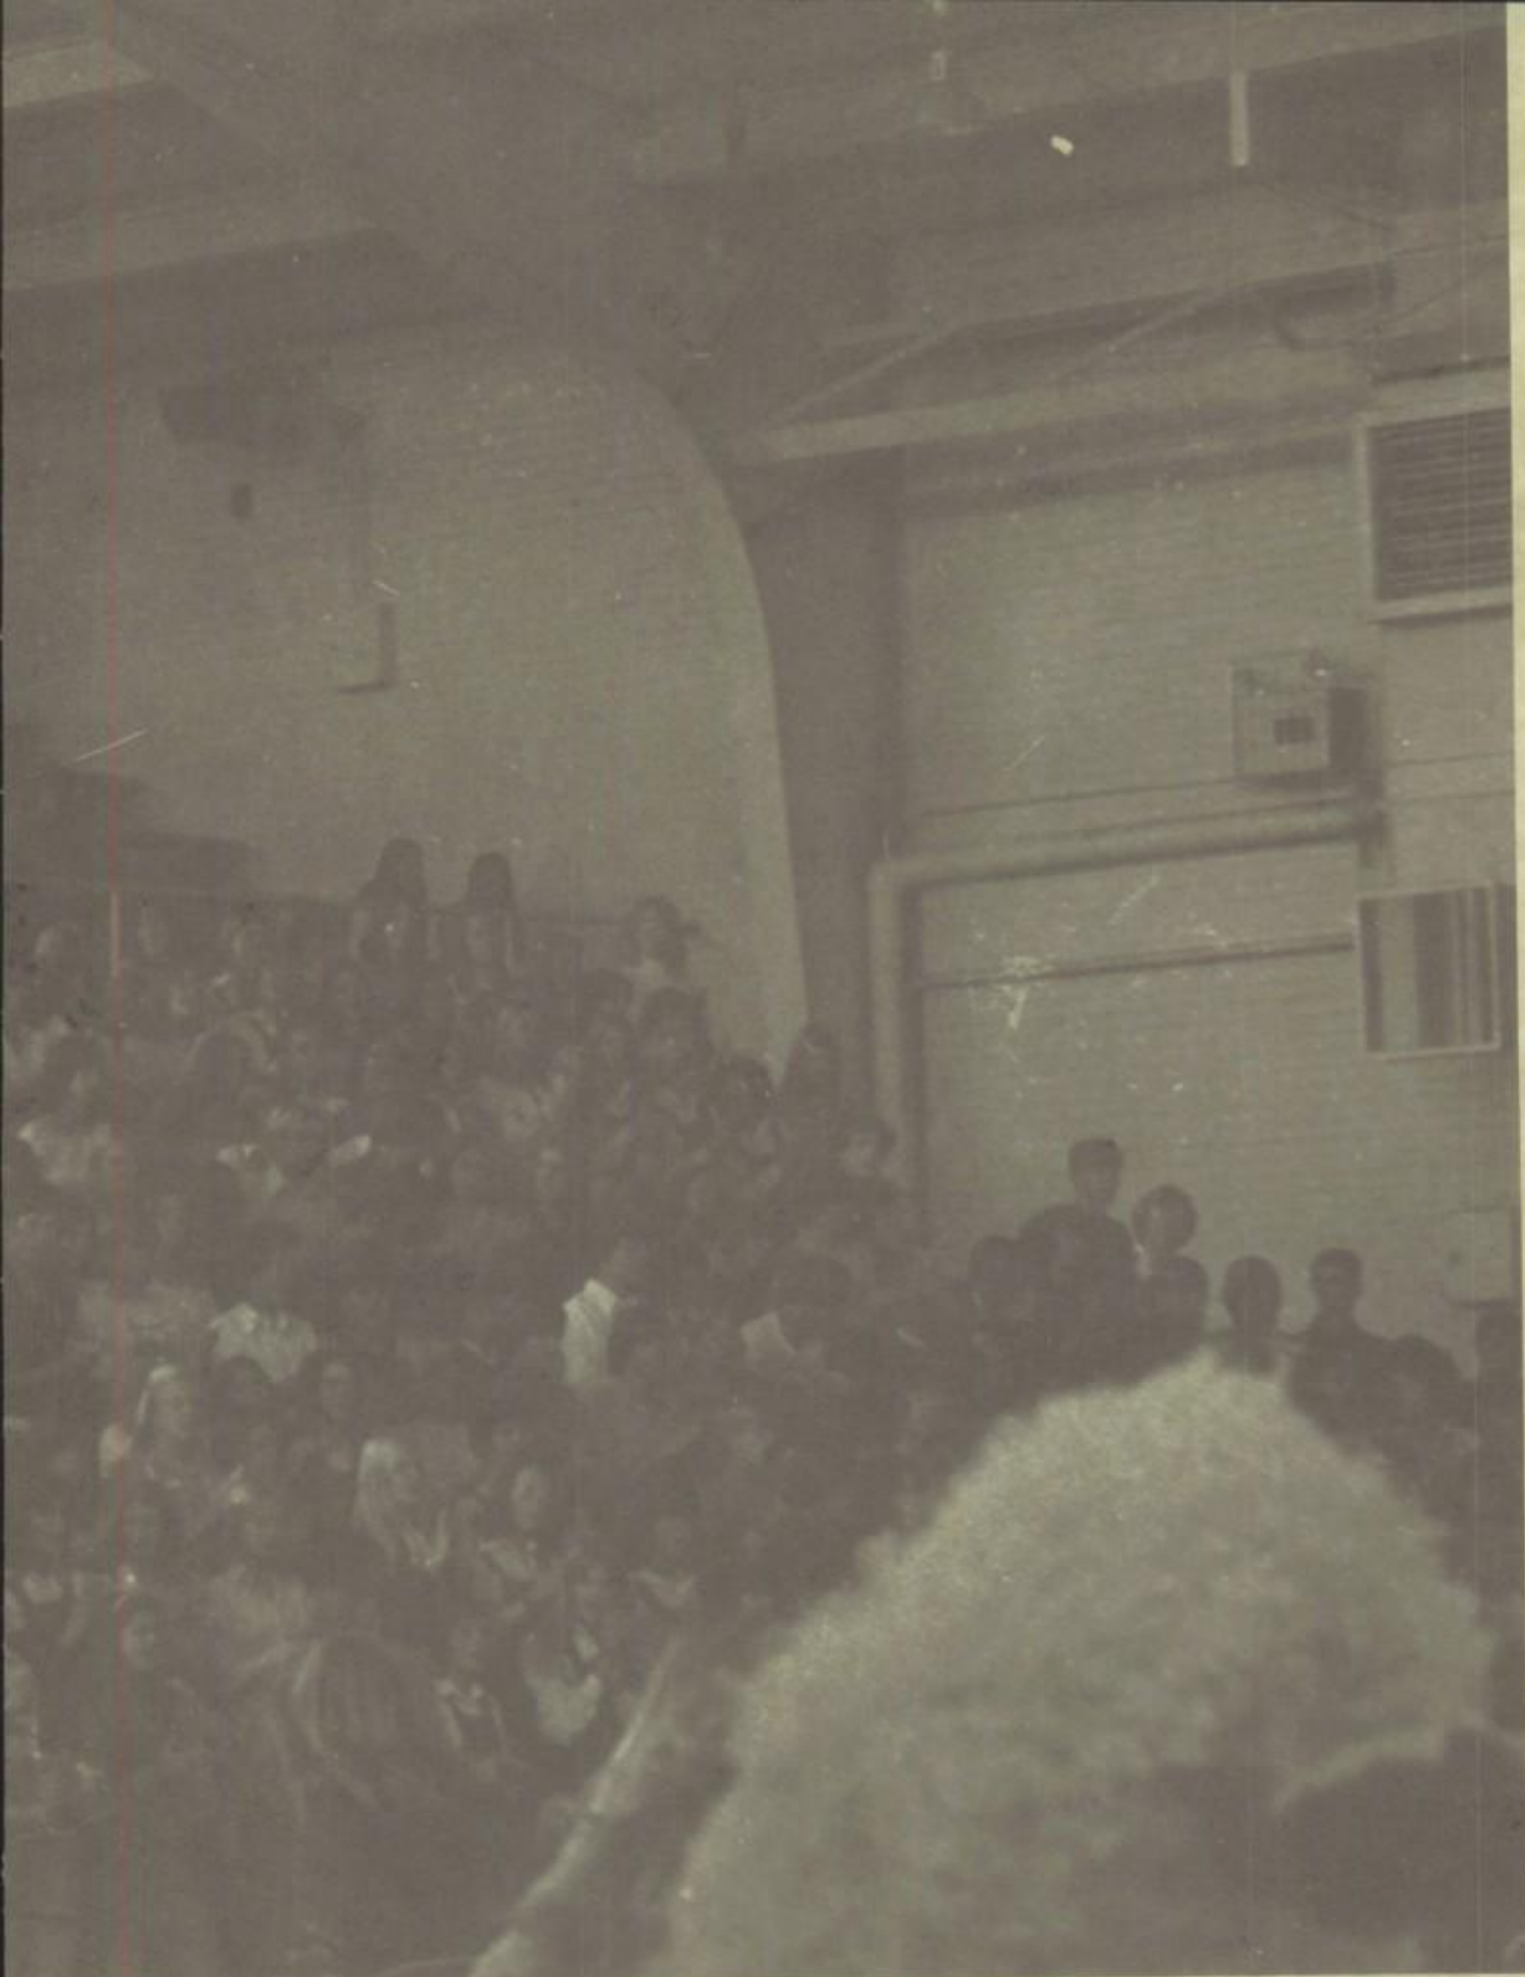

. . . and more Lambkins.

SPIRIT

In 1776 as well as 1876, cheering and support was given to those going off to fight for their country. Americans held on to their pride through good and bad times.

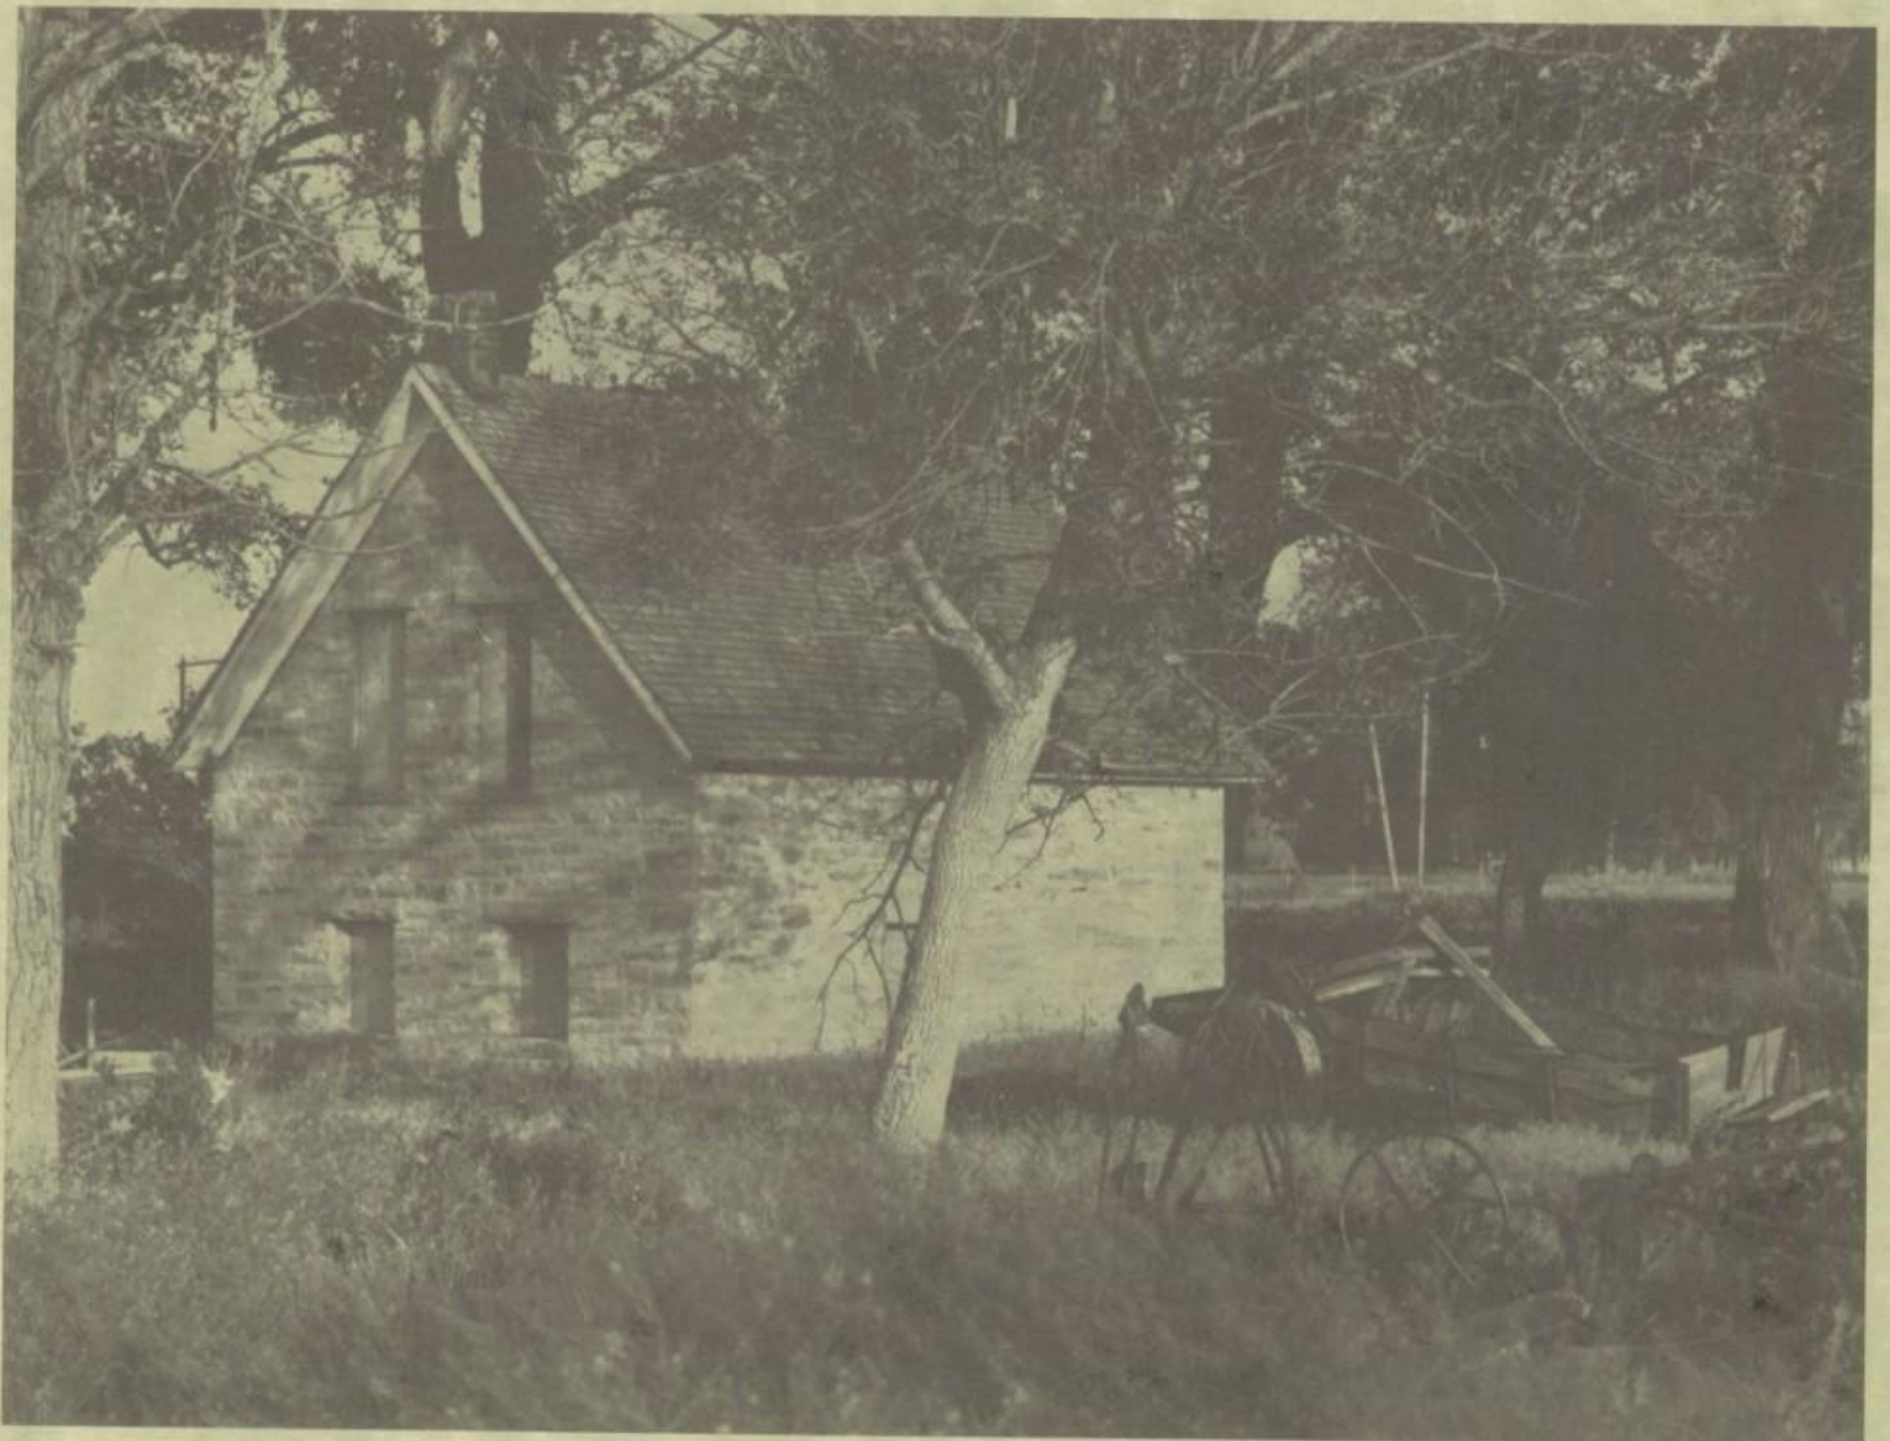

Lambkins feel the same loyalty to their school. An example of the FCHS power is at Pep Assemblies. The students show power by their volume and number. It's spirit that makes Fort Collins High School wonderful!

NEEDS

John Nelson brought the first herd of Jersey cows into the county in 1877. He built the milkhouse shown here in 1880, for his first-class dairy business. This milkhouse reminds us today of how people provided for themselves one hundred years ago.

The Milkhouse

Mike Lowell looks forward to another great lunch!

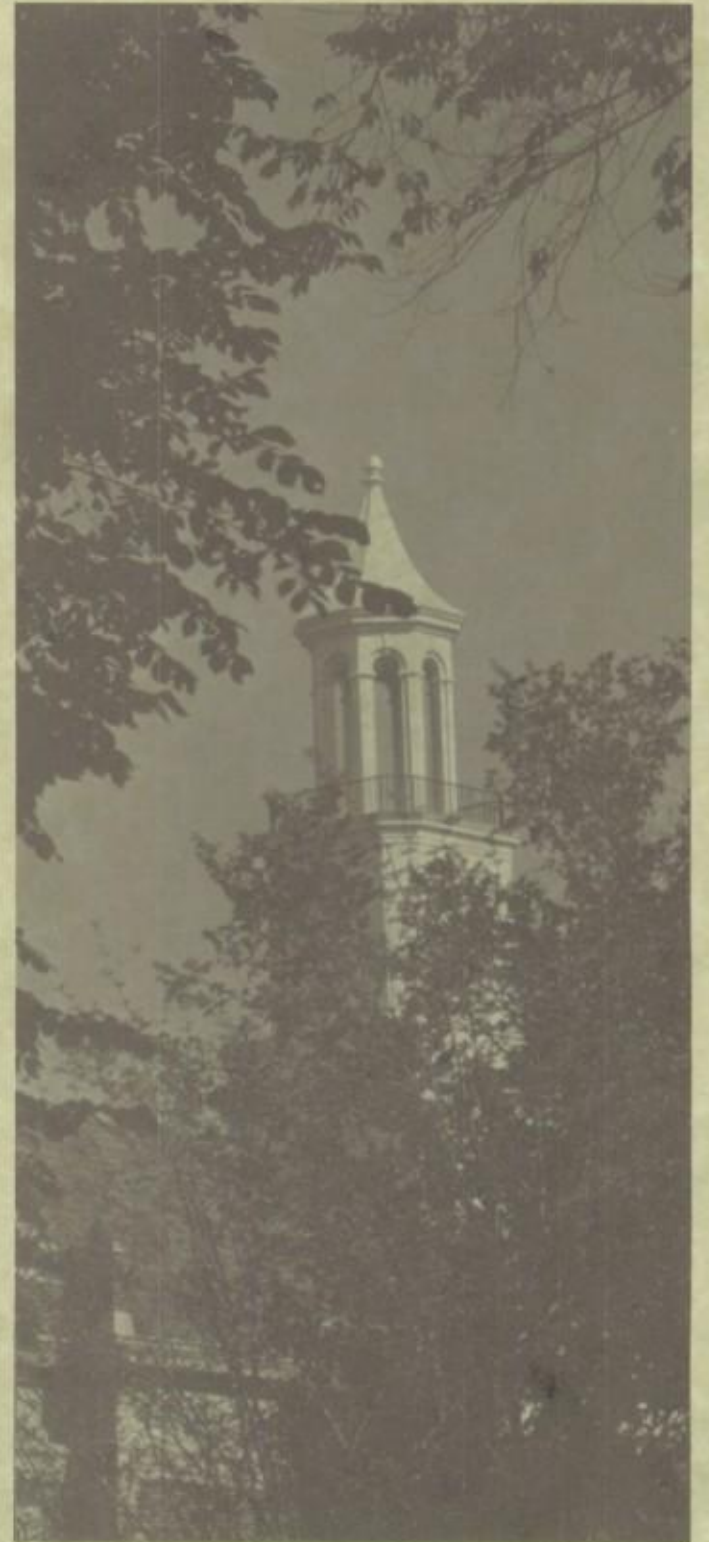

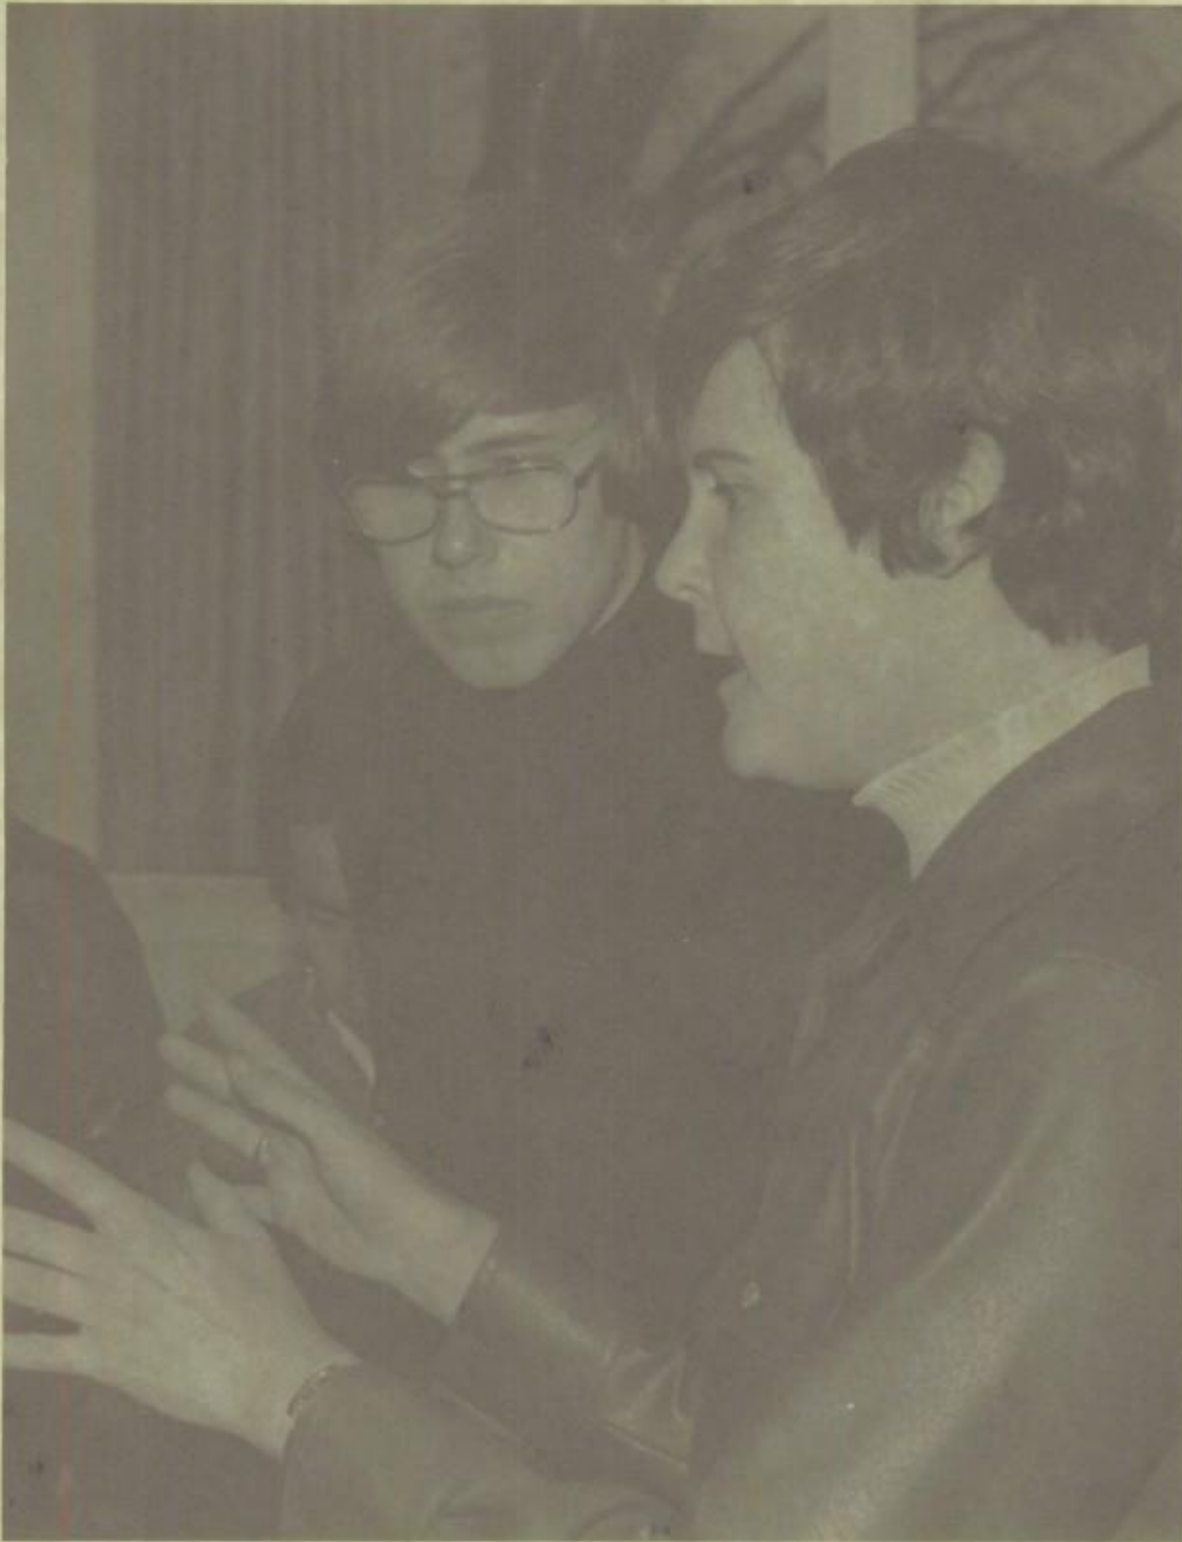

Doug Cross' happy expression shows just how great lunch is!

Stan Vermilya rushes for a table to eat his light lunch, while Karen Zink smiles.

Our town now consists of at least nine super markets. We think nothing of how or where the food comes from. The consumer very rarely comes in contact with the raw materials. Times have changed.

FCHS' governing body is Student Council, with Miss Otten as it's sponsor.

Today, a more complicated form of this early democracy is practiced. Each government, whether of the nation, a state, or an individual school, is a government "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

In celebrating Colorado's 100th birthday and the United States' 200th, we should remember all the people and hard work put into making this a "sweet land of liberty."

FOOTBALL 1975: A Winning Season

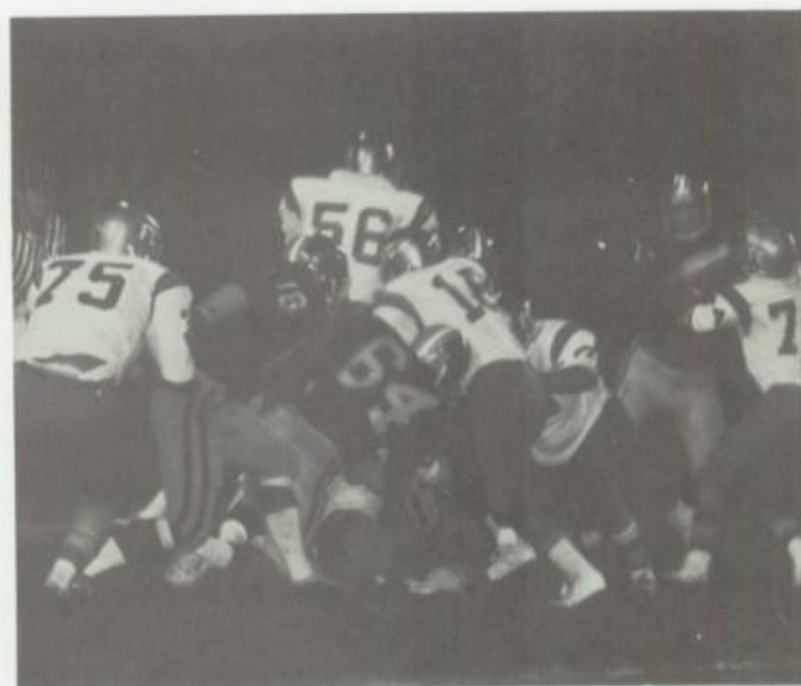

After winning the Division Title last year, the returning Lambkin football players came back with a lot of pride and enthusiasm. The outstanding leadership displayed by Captains Tim Faucett, Tom Livingston, Dave Naftz and Rick Townsend as well as the other seniors seemed to build the team's morale more than in past years. The confidence and spirit were high as the season neared, and most of the players felt the two-a-day practices of late August went by very quickly.

In the opening game against Ft. Morgan, the Mustangs provided very little opposition for the Lambkins as FCHS won by a wide margin, 54--0. The next week the Loveland Indians battled the Lambkins on even terms for the first half, but the FCHS strength prevailed and Fort Collins won 31--7. In our next encounter, fumbles played a large part as the turnovers resulted in a loss to 9th--ranked Greeley West, 7--13. Collins bounced back a week later, however, with a 14--7 victory over cross-town rival, Rocky Mountain. A resounding 24--7 triumph over Centaurus pushed the Lambkins back into the AP Top Ten, and kept up the twenty-three year tradition of victory at Homecoming.

As official league play began, FCHS was favored to win the Division crown. However, two disappointing losses slowed Fort Collins to a near halt. Poudre stunned FCHS 3--14, and Longmont beat the Lambkins 7--13. In both games fumbles and turnover which resulted in scores for the opponents badly hurt the team. Fort Collins then played a great game against Greeley Central, clobbering the Division-leading Wildcats 31--14. The Lambkins continued to play well against Niwot, winning 28--14. In the final game of the season, FCHS lost to Sterling, 8--16 as a result of more turnovers.

Still, it was a good season as the Lambkins compiled a winning record for the year. The defensive efforts of the team were particularly outstanding as the Lambkins limited their opponents to an average of only 153.7 yards-per-game.

JV FOOTBALL

Jeff Starke moves in to help the Lambkin runner.

The JV offense was led by the running of Brad Lewis and Chuck Darst, the passing of Jim Arslanian, and the receiving of Tom McMillan, Jeff Starke, Mark Cohen and Dave Tueting. The defense, which allowed an average of only 7 points a game, was led by sophomores Harvey Boxberger, Brad Schwindt, Mark Avalos, Morgan Bolls and Dan Brown; and by juniors Frank Higgins, John Jesser, Brad Lewis and Chuck Darst. The Lambkin JV team has lost only one game in the last two years. Many players have received valuable game experience during the JV season, and will hopefully provide a good nucleus for next year's varsity team.

The JV scoreboard for 1975 is as follows: FCHS 14--Loveland 8; FCHS 6--Greely West 0; FCHS 14--Rocky Mtn. 6; FCHS 22--Centaurus 12; FCHS 40--Poudre 6; FCHS 14--Longmont 13; FCHS 0--Niwt 7.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country

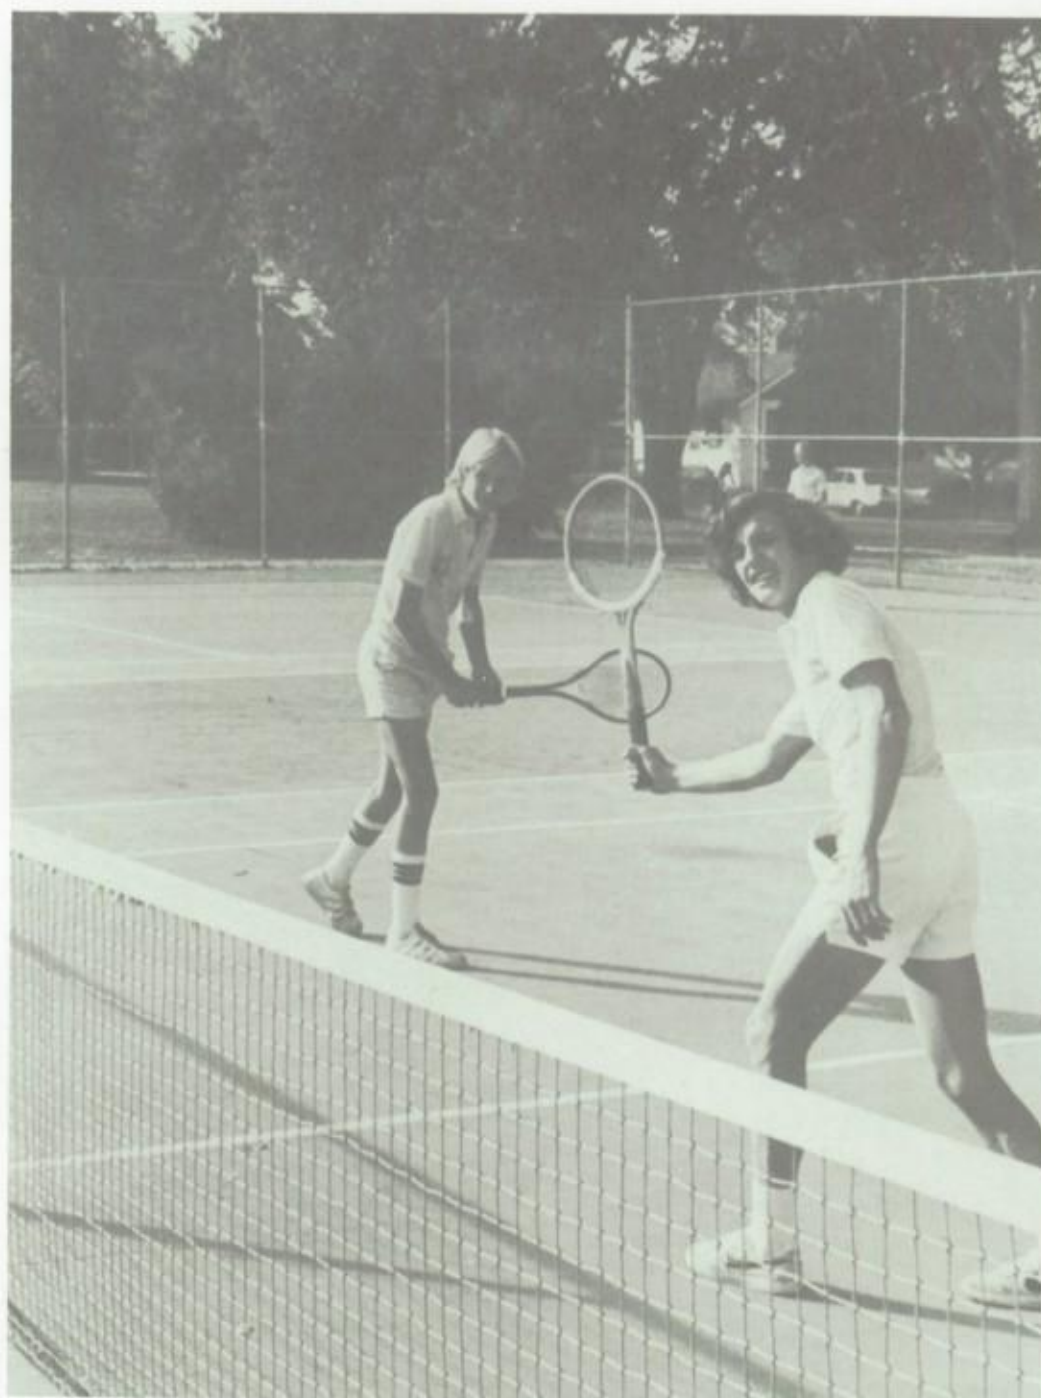

The 1975 Cross-Country team had a new look this year. Thanks to the added effort of new members and the experience of the lettermen, the cross-country team placed fourth in conference. Senior Terry Johnson led the team all year. A returning letterman, he placed second in the conference meet, earning the honor to run in state. In the state meet held at Pueblo, T.J. broke the ten minute mark and placed sixth. Other two year lettermen were seniors Jeff Jordan and Karl Kelman. Sophomore Dave Paranka provided new talent and also lettered. The new look this year was partly because cross-country was a coed sport. Gretchen Stermitz led the girls, placing first in the girls' city-wide meet.

Another Step Up For Lambkin Tennis

The 1975 Lambkin Tennis Team started the year with high hopes. An outstanding team composed mostly of juniors planned to finish well in the District Tournament and send many members to State. When District finally rolled around, Robert Cunningham, Jack Lowery, and Mark Guzman were our best singles players. Steve Edgar and Chuck Bayard teamed up to become a tremendous doubles team. The ball-swackers came through in the District Tournament, placing fourth out of eleven teams. Although no one qualified for state, the year can still be termed a success. The Lambkins moved up in the team standings and gained experience for what should be a great year.

Gymnastics Goes To State

The Lambkin gymnasts had a very good year, placing second in the District meet and in Conference, and placing 11th in State. At the District and Conference meets Cindy Rath placed third in bars and fourth in All-around. Wendy Seaman tied for first in the floor exercises and Lori Winkler took 6th place in All-Around.

The team went to the State meet in Colorado Springs on November 14. The team did exceptionally well. Diana Johnson, coach of the Lambkin gymnasts, was quoted as saying, "This is the best we've done in State in the last three years but competition has improved so much that we tied for 11th place."

The successful season was enhanced by the large number of new sophomores which included Meg Peck, Lori Brennan, Anita Pool, Mary Alvis, and Donna Gormally. Lori Winkler and Cindy Rath served as the 1975 Co-Captains of the FCHS team.

SWIMMING

Size seemed to hurt the FCHS Girls' Swim Team this year, but with all things taken into consideration it was still a good season. Rick Zielke was back as an assistant coach, and Holly Pierce coached diving. Dan Fotsch was very pleased with the season: "We had a small team but that just meant each girl had to work harder. That is just what they did, and it paid off."

Stephanie Angleton placed fifth in the backstroke at Conference, and the Medley Relay team of Peggy Seible, Jane McComb, Stephanie Angleton and Diana Olsen also placed fifth at Conference. Carol Ratcliff and Marilyn Ratcliff both dived for the team, and their accomplishments were excellent. The team captains were Diana Olsen and Marilyn Ratcliff, and Lorie Herman was voted Most Improved.

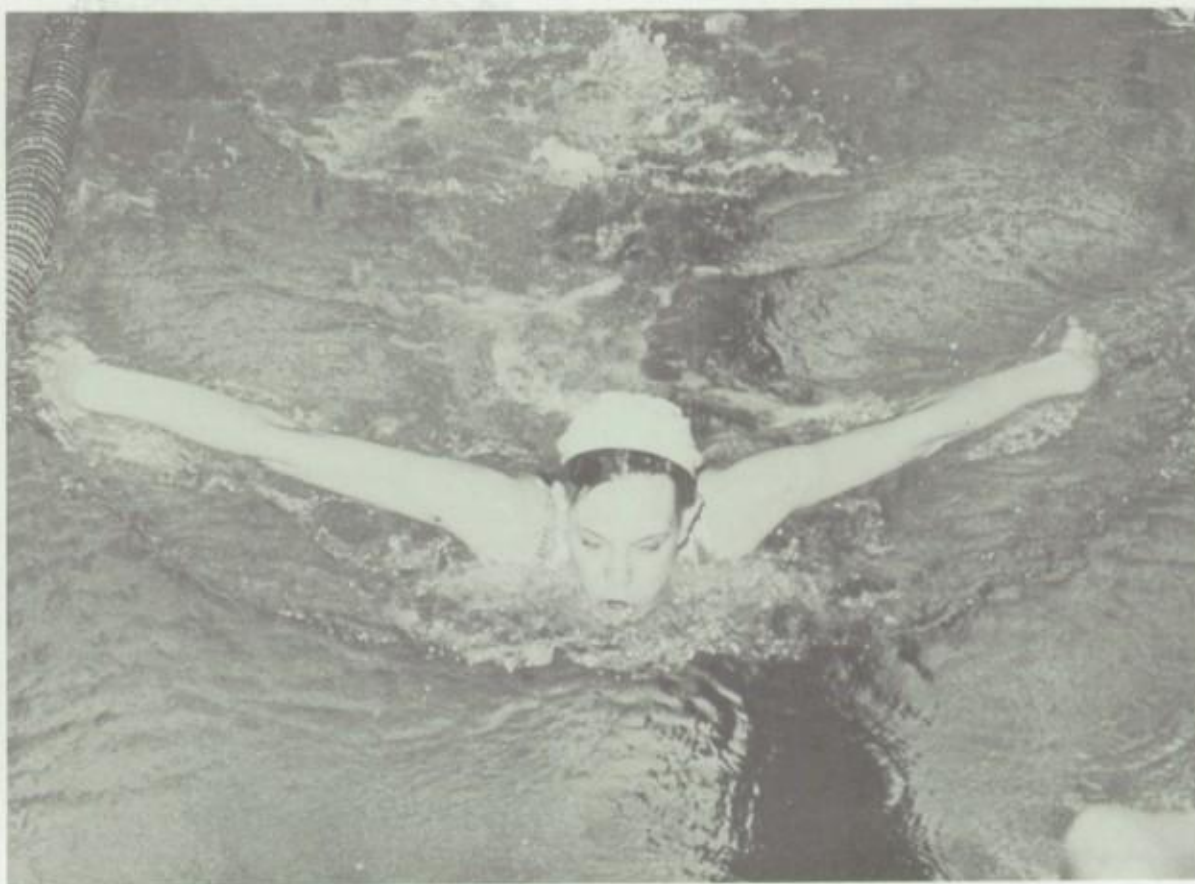

This was a young team which had only four graduating seniors. With so many girls returning next year, the Lambkins should be quite competitive in conference action.

LAMBKIN GOLF GOES TO STATE

Fort Collins High sported one of its finest golf teams in years. The Lambkins drove, chipped and putted to the Conference Championship and took second in District. Steve Vanscoy, a sophomore, placed second in the conference tournament with Dave Sisson, Bob Vanscoy, and Kurt Anders finishing fourth, fifth and eighth respectively. Sisson, and the Vanscoy brothers, were chosen for All-Conference honors. The team ended the season by tying for ninth in the State tournament.

Lambkins Finish Sixth

After winning the Northern Conference Championship and a berth in the State Tournament last year, the Lambkins looked forward to another good year in 1975-'76. However, the teams' performance this year proved to be disappointing to many as FCHS finished the year in sixth place. The Lambkins compiled a record of seven wins and eleven losses during pre-conference and conference play.

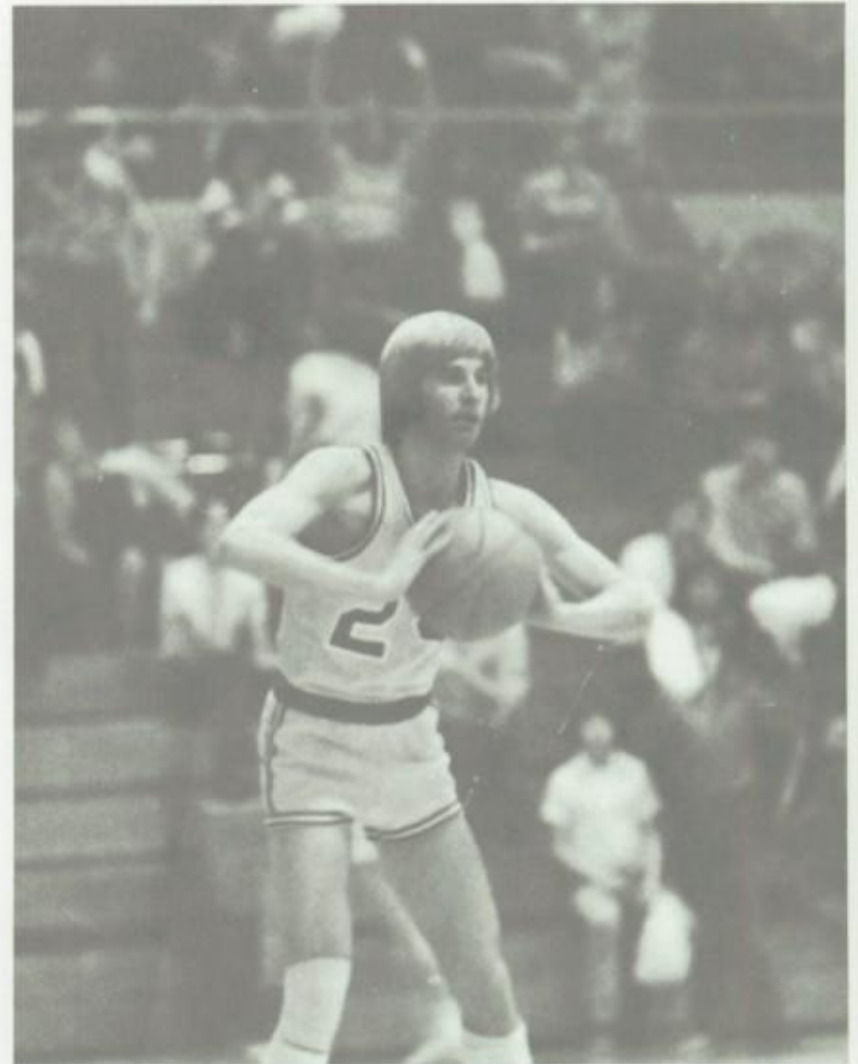

Still, the Lambkin Cagers had their moments of greatness as evidenced by their victories over the top three teams in the Northern Conference. FCHS managed narrow victories over both Loveland and Greeley West, the two teams which finished regular season play tied for the Northern Conference title. Perhaps the real highlight of the season, however, was the 79-66 victory over Rocky Mountain near the end of the year. The Lambkins proved to everybody that they were still "champions" when they were playing well.

Lambkins Take Third In Northern League Tournament Play

The Lambkin cagers continued to play well in Northern League Tournament action after the regular season was over. Though seeded sixth, the Lambkins surprised Longmont by easily defeating them on Thursday night, and then bounced back from a loss to tournament champions Greeley West to soundly thrash Poudre 76-52 on Saturday night. This last win gave Fort Collins High a third place in the tournament, and left the Lambkins with a final record of nine wins and twelve losses. Still, it was exciting to see the season end on a winning note as FCHS won five of their last seven games. Adding to the glow of this strong finish was the selection of Dave Sisson to the All-Tournament first team, and both Dave Sisson and Jeff Armstrong were named to the All-Conference team.

J.V.'s Sophs Play To Win

"It was just a super season. We played good ball all the time," said first year FCHS Junior Varsity basketball coach John Olander. Coach Olander seemed pleased with the season, and rightfully so, because his JV cagers compiled an excellent 12 and 5 record.

Sophomore Scott Otteman and junior Mike Faucett were the leading scorers, and sophomores Tom Kesler and Luis Amoros were the leading rebounders. Coach Olander couldn't name anyone as the outstanding player because he felt everyone did an "outstanding job."

The Sophomore basketball program at FCHS showed tremendous improvement over last year's 3 and 12 record. Although the sophomores had a losing season, they placed third in the Loveland Invitational.

The 1976 Wrestling team had many outstanding individuals. As a team, five out of twelve matches were victorious. Tim Faucett was chosen team captain, and was third in his weight at conference wrestling. Jeff Torgerson and Gary Lemesany each earned fourth places in conference. Doug Cross and Tom Livingston went to state, each with second place Northern Conference titles. Coach Torgerson expects more of a team balance for the 1977 Wrestling team.

Rick Keeton, the team manager.

This year, fifteen wrestlers lettered. These are the requirements to letter: wrestle in $\frac{2}{3}$ of the Varsity matches, or be a senior that never wrestled before, or qualify for the State Tournament.

"Finest Girls Ever"

"These are the finest group of girls who have ever played basketball at FCHS," said head coach Mike Pierce. "Everybody on the team worked hard and contributed to our success."

Coach Pierce had good reason to be proud of his team because they finished second in the tough Northern Conference with an outstanding 8 and 2 record.

Coach Pierce commented, "We won some big games, particularly the ones with Poudre and with Sterling in our final regular season game." Sterling, the North Conference champ, was ranked third in the state at the time.

Trudy Wetzel, a junior led the girl cagers in scoring with a 15 point average. Margaret Magnus and Sharon McCafferty did well in rebounding, and Laura Merrill was outstanding at bringing the ball down the courts.

Seven Swimmers Go To State

"We're Tough" was the motto of the 1975-76 Fort Collins High School boy's swim team. And they proved to be tough as they swam their way to a 9-3 record, the best season ever for a boy's swim team at FCHS.

Coached by Dan Fotsch and his assistant, former FCHS swimmer Rick Zielke, the team placed a hard-earned third in Conference. The team captains, Ken Nibbelink and Tom Templer led six of their teammates in qualifying for state. FCHS tankers qualifying for state included Ken Nibbelink in the 200 and 500 Freestyle, Tom Templer in the 50 and 100 Freestyle, Jeff Starke in the 100 Breast Stroke, and the 200 Medley Relay Team consisting of Chuck Darst, Chris Smith, Bic Benedict and Tom Templer.

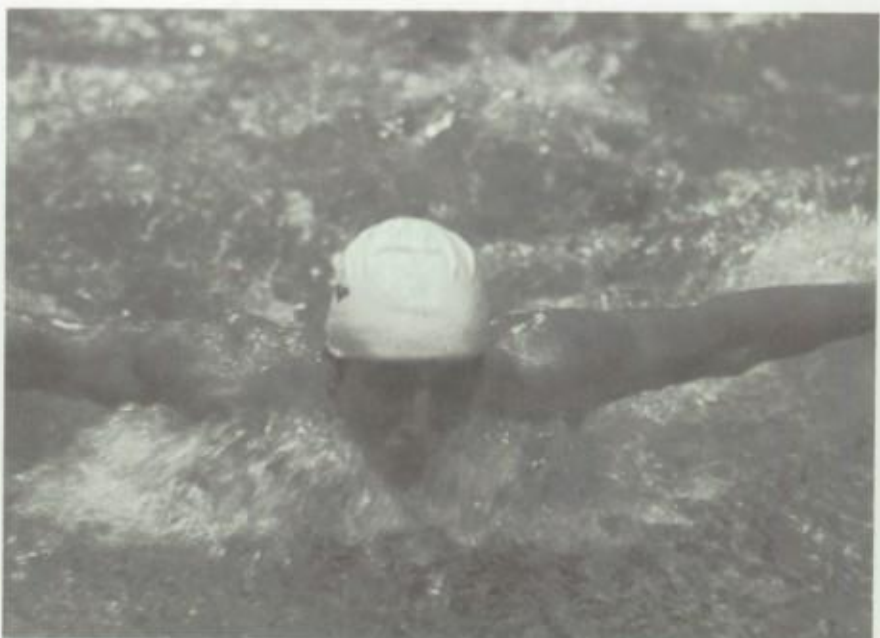

A fellow swimmer gives Tom Templer a hand, after he qualifies for state.

Bic Benedict scored well for FCHS this year while swimming breast stroke.

Chuck Darst butterflys his way to a victory.

FCHS Students Compete for Fun

"It's just a big bunch of fun" voiced Mr. Bowen with a grin. Many FCHS students participated in that fun during 1975-1976. Intramural activity was in action this fall with ping-pong and soccer. Soccer is part of Intramurals again in the spring, along with softball.

Basketball and bowling were the major aspects of winter intramurals, and involved both guys and gals. Basketball teams included such groups as 'The Nerds,' 'The Reruns,' and 'The Empty Sets.' Faculty members got in on the act too, competing with a team named 'The Wilted Roses.'

Bowling was also a big part of winter Intramurals. Students participated in a league which met once a week at Monte Carlo Lanes. Everyone who took part in bowling as well as all the other Intramural programs indicated that a great time was had by all.

Even though the competition was intense, students still found time for fun and good conversation.

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

What is a cheerleader; what does it take? A year of dedication to Boosters, a year of working for the number of required points to try out? It takes all of this and more. Freezing to death at Football games, trying to decide what to wear on your legs or taking the blame when no one is yelling. That is what it's all about.

Seasonal cheerleaders were introduced for the first time this year. This gave girl athletes a chance to participate in cheerleading one season, and a sport another season.

With the many sports and activities during the year, cheerleaders seemed to enjoy themselves, while boosting on team enthusiasm and victories.

Working hard to meet his own individual goals, William Banks represents FCHS in Cross Country.

Being a swimmer takes a lot of mental concentration. Here our FCHS Swimmers psyche themselves up for a meet.

The coach is just as much a part of the team as the players. Here Coach Olander points out some strategies during a J.V. time out.

Cindy Rath works diligently on the bars preparing herself for Conference gymnastics.

What does being in a sport mean? It means hours of practice every night, sore muscles, and getting out of class to go to Sterling. It means going to State, and winning or losing to Poudre. It means lasting friendships between team members who worked together with common dedication for a common goal. It means cheering crowds, and more often quiet, lonely competitions, not only with the other guy, but with yourself. It means pride after winning and quiet humiliation after losing. It means all of these things and many more.

Many students have worked with dedication and spirit in athletics at FCHS. The long hours of practice, the friendships that were formed, the victories and defeats have not only become an important part of these three years; they have become a part of their lives.

ACADEMICS

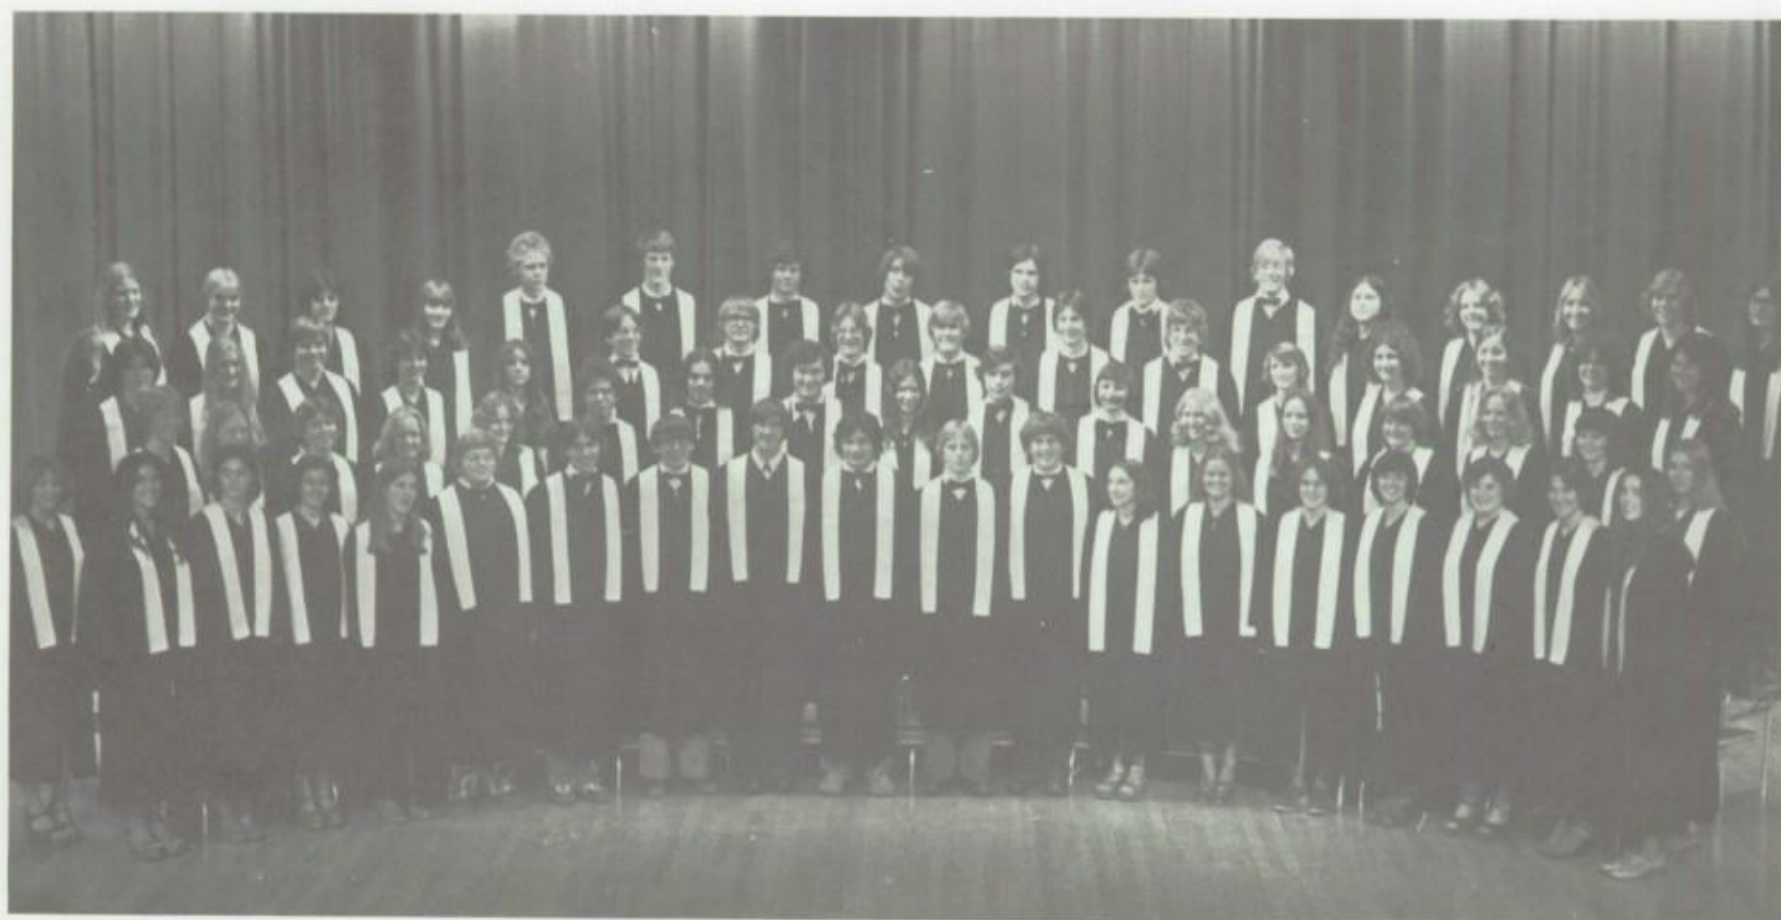

A CAPELLA Sings To Success

A Capella is the largest vocal music class at FCHS. Composed of 73 students, it is considered by many to be one of the best choirs in the state. They performed many concerts, both here and around the community. A Capella has become a tradition at FCHS. After all, what would Friday be like without A Capella singing "Travel" in the hall?

A Capella practiced hard every day during fifth period.

Tower and All-State; the best in the School

Tower is composed of a few individuals who are considered to be the best in the school. They were also chosen to perform at CMEA. They performed at many concerts this year, singing a variety of music.

Chosen for All-State were; Cris Bryant, Betty Busch, Carol Cook, Al Guin, John Hoge, Karla Keinholz, John Wilbur, and Byron Winn.

Concert Choir Perfects Skills

Concert choir is a fairly new course here at FCHS. It was offered for the first time last year, and due to student enthusiasm, it was offered again this year. Concert choir performed at many of the concerts here, and was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Eastburn directs Concert Choir during a typical practice session.

As evidenced by their euphoric expressions, members of Concert Choir reached new heights of musical splendor.

Mr. Eastburn directs the Girls' Choir.

Girls Choir Blends Voices

Girls Choir combines the talents of many FCHS girls. Under the direction of Hal Eastburn, they performed many Folk, Sacred and Popular songs at concerts given throughout the year. Said one student of girls choir, "It's a fun way to end the day." The class was offered 7th period.

Orchestra Plays In CMEA

Orchestra, directed by Steve McNeil, is very popular this year. Around sixty students participated in Orchestra. The woodwind instruments are the most popular.

Laura Merrill is the Concert Mistress this year. She sits in the lead chair in the seating of the whole Orchestra.

The Orchestra was one of two Orchestras chosen to perform in the Colorado Music Educators Association.

Chamber And All State Orchestras Are Selected

The Chamber Orchestra is composed of selected string players. The Chamber Orchestra plays Chamber Music. They were selected to play for a convention in Colorado Springs this year.

The All-State members auditioned to become part of this select Orchestra. They played with people from all over the state at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs this year.

Members of Chamber Orchestra were: Laura Merrill, Heidi Danielson, Karla Kienholz, Ted Puls, Alicia Schiager, Cecilia Flanagan, RaeMarie Boyd, Mary Alvis, Jean Solomon.

Members of All State Orchestra were, row one: Vicky Boyd, Dianie Burg, Barb Shuey, Betty Busch, Carol Cook. Row two: Sara Thompson, RaeMarie Boyd, Karla Kienholz, Bill Gillette, Chris Bryant, John Wilber. Not shown was Byron Winn.

And The Bands Played On . . .

Band, led by that leader of leaders, Curtis Johnson, plays on. Band this year, as always, was very popular. As a matter of fact, all music classes are popular.

The bands meet at various times during the day. Anyone under the band rooms invariably knows exactly when they do play! No one really cares though, because the bands are a very old and important part of the tradition here at the home of the Lambkins, FCHS. Keep on tooting, because the band must go on! .

All State And Stage Bands Play For FCHS

Stage band was led by Hal Eastburn this year. Both bands were quite unusual compared to others. The members were selected from students who tried out for them.

Stage Band played all kinds of music, rock and roll, and blues were among the many different types. All-State Band performs in Colorado Springs, and they played music selected ahead of time. Both bands had unlimited talent.

Math Department Offers Many Courses

The purpose of the math program at FCHS is to prepare students for math problems they will encounter after they graduate. Some courses, such as Computer, Math Analysis and Calculus, were especially designed to fit the needs of the college bound. Other courses helped students in handling practical problems. These courses included Consumer Math and Personal Finance. The department head was Mr. King who is retiring this year after many years of dedicated teaching.

Mr. Tegtman, the Business Department head, taught many classes.

Business Teaches Important Skills

The many courses offered by the Business Department at Fort Collins High School prepares students for entry into the working world. A large number of FCHS students were enrolled in a variety of classes which included Business Administration, Typing, Accounting, Business Law and many other valuable and interesting classes. Many students were also involved in the work-study programs, DE and COE. The head of the Business Department was Mr. Tegtman.

Students practice EFFICIENCY in typing class.

Language Students Learn Through Experience

A myriad of classes were offered in the foreign language department this year. Besides the basic language classes, culture and conversation classes were held.

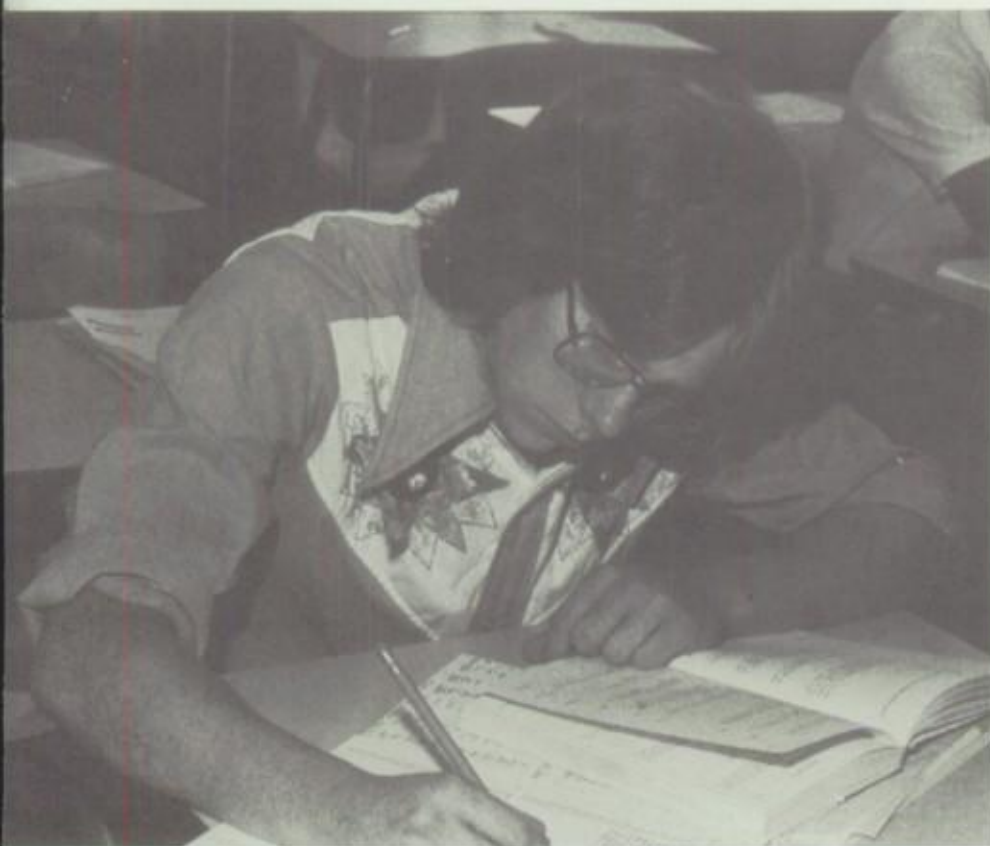

The department hosted many interesting experiences, including a weekend camp in the mountains where the student was required to speak only in the foreign language that they were studying for three days. They were required to go through customs, have passports, and do all the things they would have to do if they were going to another country. The foreign language club, and the international club, were also active this year.

Carol Svedman reads intently in American Experience.

New English Classes Change Old Attitudes

The traditional humdrum, (yawn), description of the typical English class was replaced this year as new classes changed the statement: "Well, It's required" to "Hey, this is kind of neat!". Radio and T.V. courses, as well as acting classes and Creative Writing stressed creative expression, while at the same time taught technical skills. Other classes such as Grammar Review, Advanced Composition and Reading Technique were offered to prepare students for college entrance examinations and for college work. Interpersonal Communications and the many speech classes helped students acquire the important skill of being able to relay their ideas orally to others.

The many classes put a strain on the English teachers but they overcame it with their usual dedication and good humor. The department head was Mr. Bandhaur.

Art Provides A Creative Escape

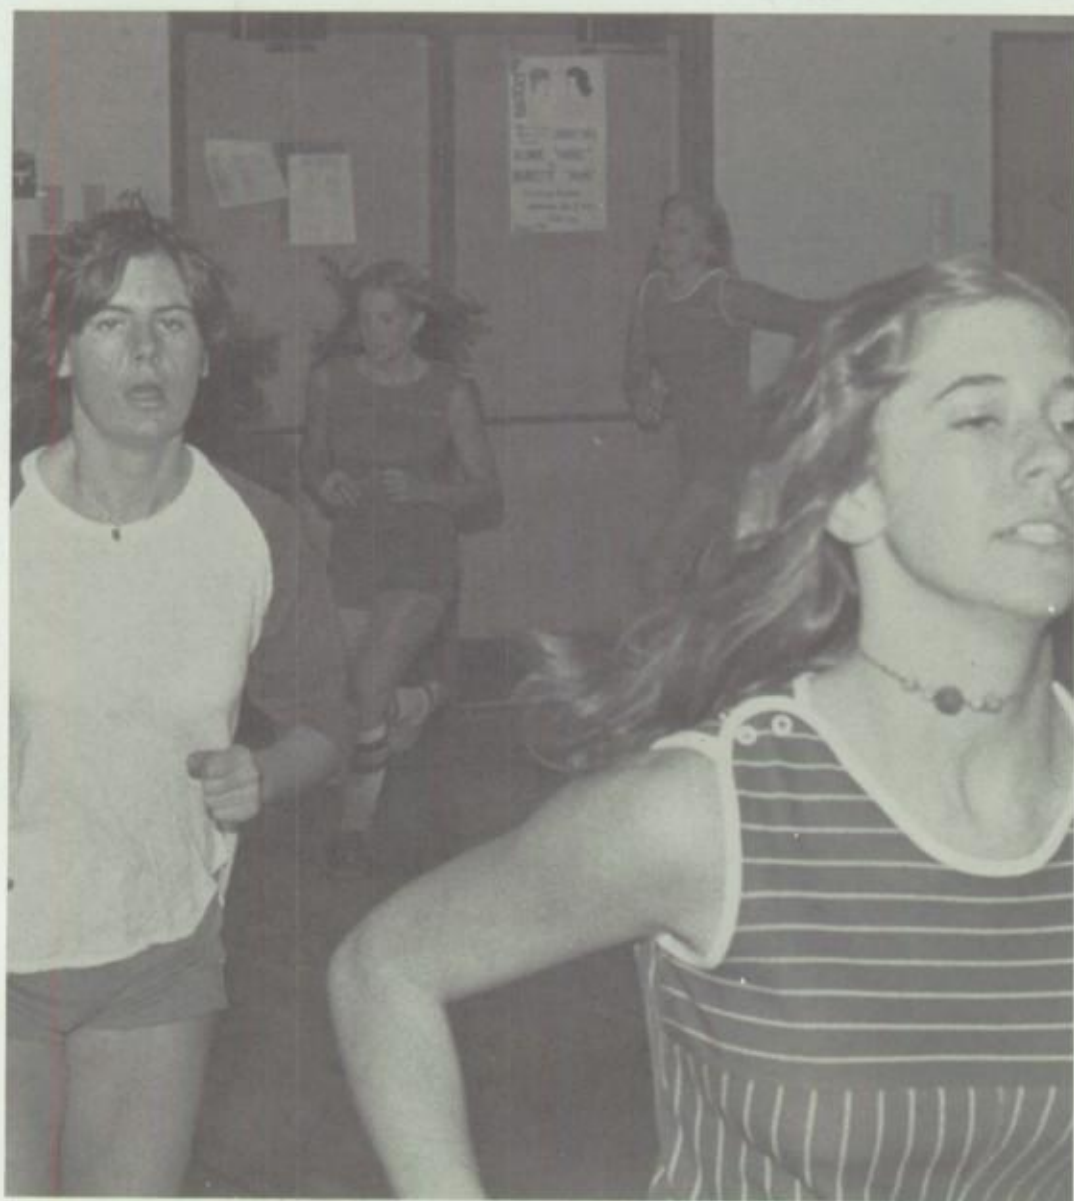

The art department offered many classes to spur interest in the artistically inclined. These classes ranged from Everyday Art and Drawing to specialized classes dealing with ceramics, jewelry and photography. Mr. Jackson and Mr. Stoll teach the classes offered in art. Students often see art students' creations on display through the school year. In past years, many students have shown their work to the public art shows.

FCBS Students Keep Fit In The P.E. Classes

You name it, it was probably offered. The P.E. department offered a large variety of classes in an attempt to offer the majority of students a P.E. class that they would be interested in. Traditional classes, such as football, basketball and softball, were taught. Specific classes such as Contemporary Dance, Archery and Personal Fitness were also offered. The department head is Mr. Frank Faucett.

History Is Now

Keeping up with current times and issues is a difficult task for many people. AT FCHS, this task is a part of the Social Studies teacher's lives. Classes such as Classical Humanities and 1960's-1970's help improve the outlook of the students.

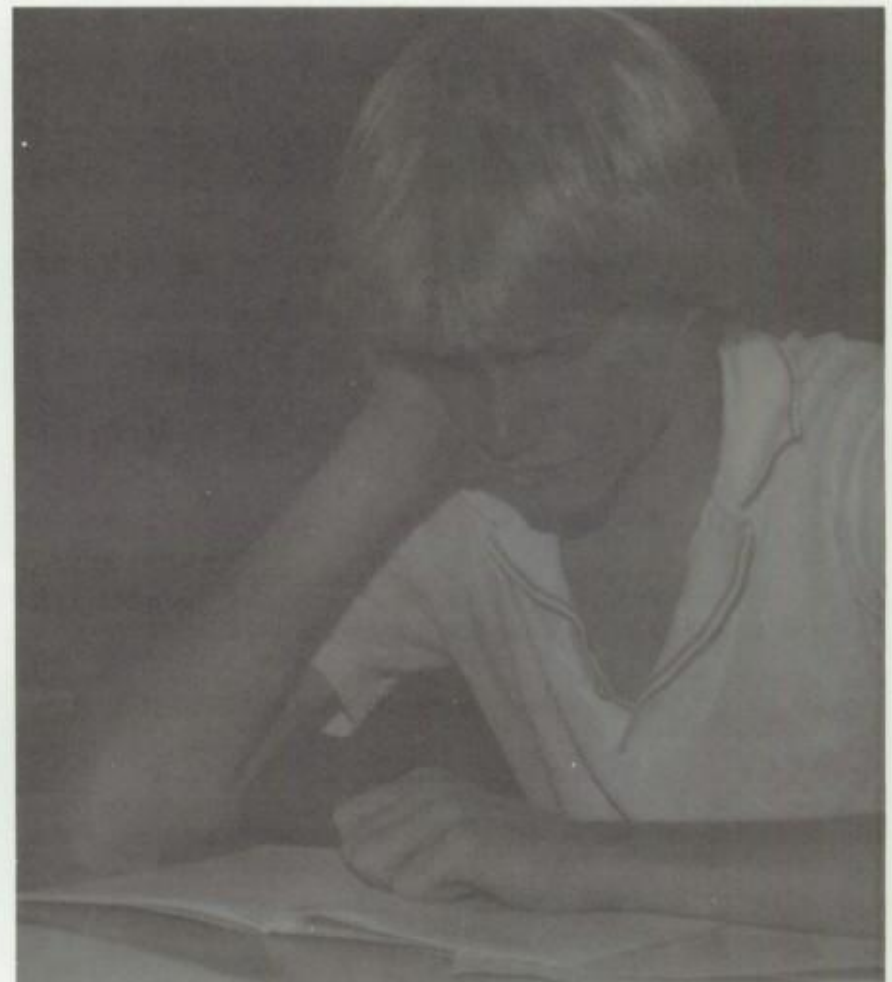

Past history is made interesting by the unique classes offered in Variable Scheduling. Revolution and American History are among these classes. The department head is Mrs. Bacon.

Mr. Martin makes his point!

Doreen Beard and Mrs. Bacon discuss Classical Humanities.

Chuck Baird reads intently for class.

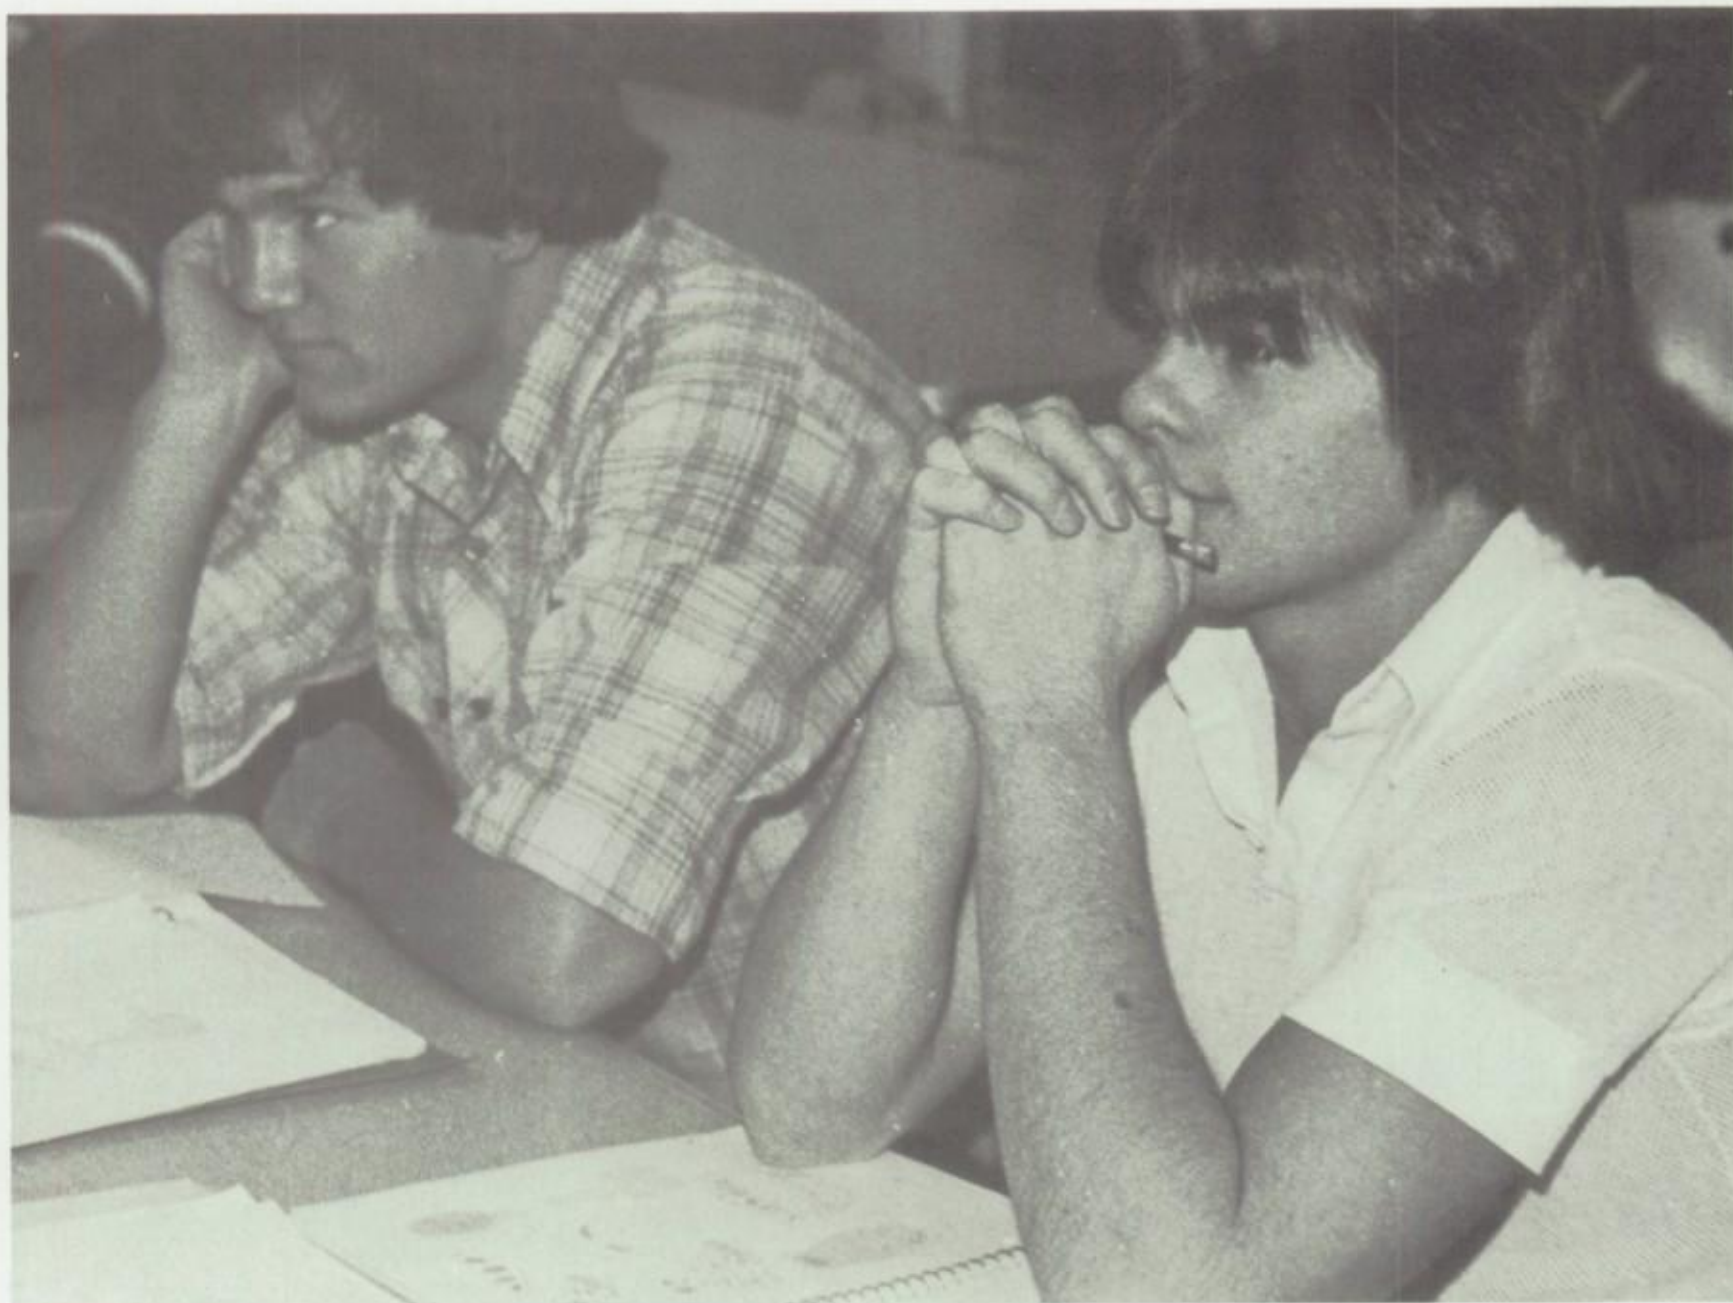

Steve Bruny doing his chemistry.

Science Is Work

The science classes offered at FCHS are always popular. Over-crowded classes and piles of work for the teachers proves this. Students soon discover the advantages of partners and sharing microscopes.

This year a new face enlightens the teachers in the science department. Mrs. Patterson replaced Mrs. Morrill in the faculty during the '75-'76 school year.

Dave Naftz and Mark Lombardi listen intently to a long, long lecture in class.

Home-Ec Is For Everybody

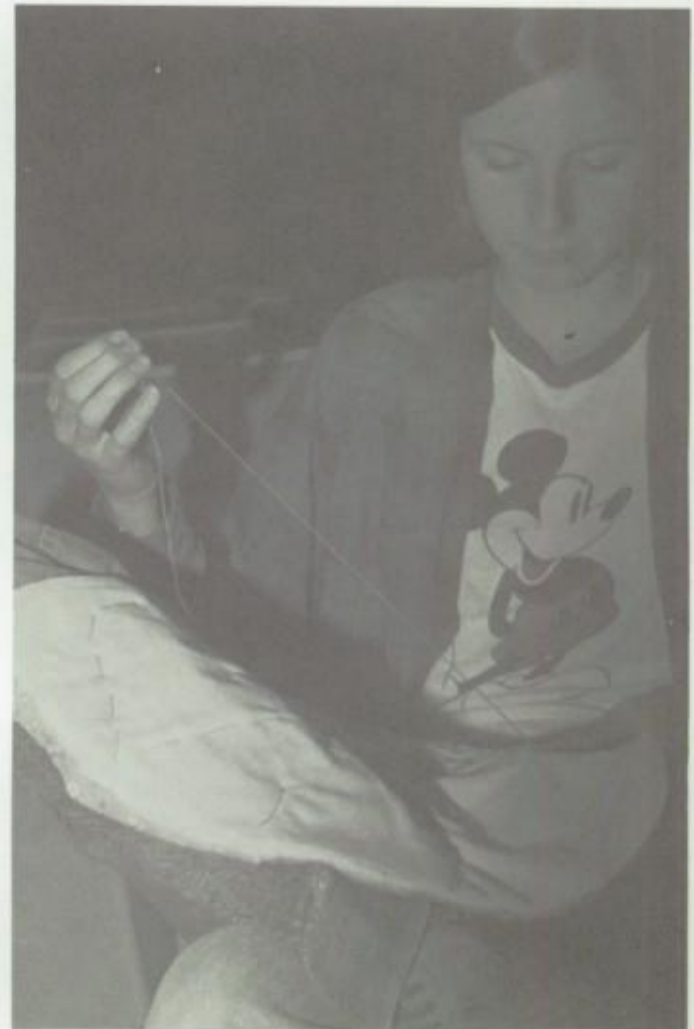

Home Economics, defined as the theory and practice of homemaking, is for everyone! The Home-Ec department at FCHS discriminates against no one and encourages everyone, to join in the fun while learning many valuable skills. A vast variety of classes were offered this year that attracted both boys and girls such as Do It With Down and Family Living. The Department head was Mrs. Crockett.

Ross Bloom and Dave Drake prepare a meal.

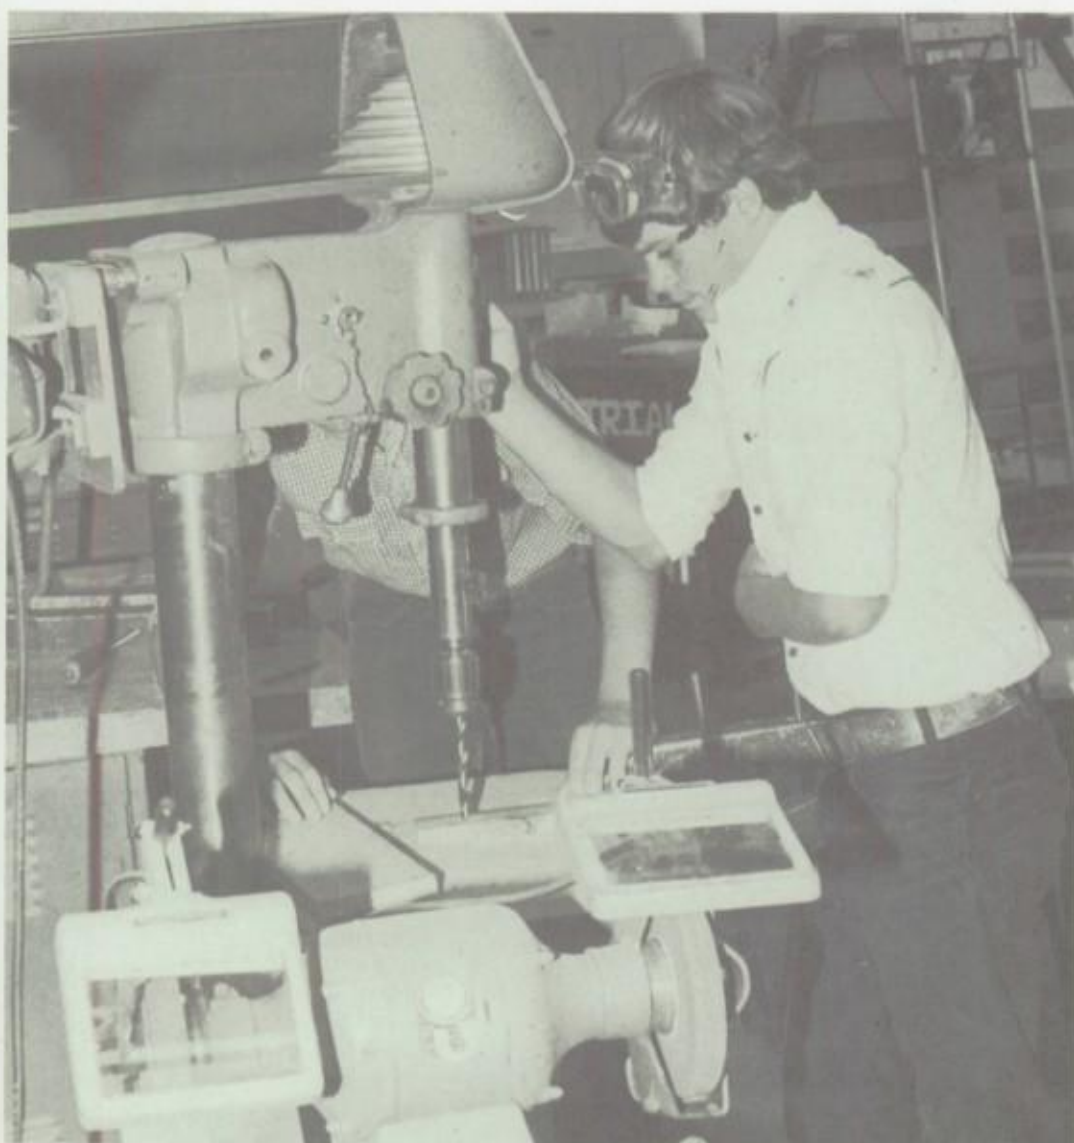

Karla Kienholz works on a quilt.

Patience is an asset to the students.

Experience Gained In Industrial Arts

Industrial arts provides practical working experience for many FCHS students. For girls, a special class in mechanics is offered. Also offered are Architecture, Cabinet Making, Carpentry, Machine Woodworking, Welding and Metals. Mr. William Larson is the department chairman.

Drilling isn't as easy as it looks, it can take two.

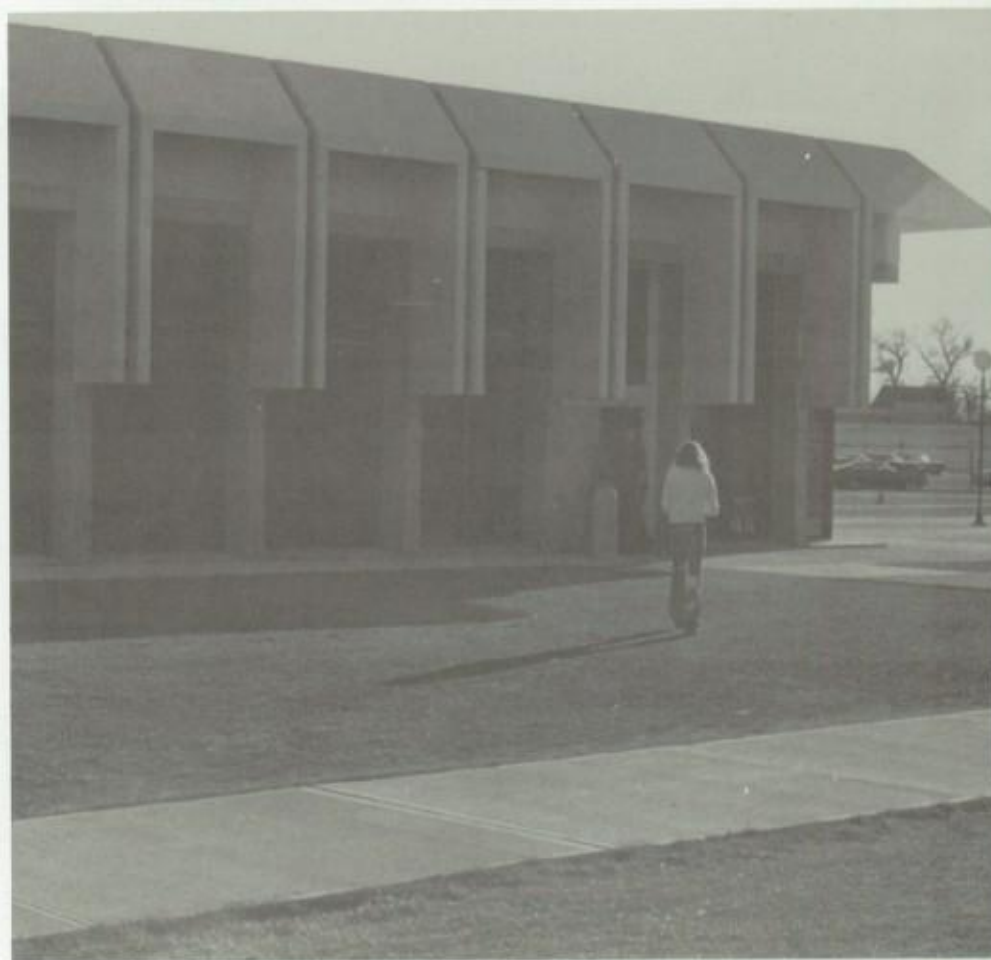

Mr. Larson works hard too!

Vo-tech Is Still Growing Fast

The Vo-tech center is rapidly growing. More and more students are taking the large varieties of classes offered at the center. They range from nursing to masonry.

All of Larimer County has an interest in the center. A lot of devoted teachers and students make the center what it is.

One of the Vo-tech students heading towards the student lounge.

The Vo-tech Center has to be quite large in order to hold all of its classes.

Work Experience Is Made Fun

The Cooperative Education classes at FCHS are numerous. These classes are work-related classes and provide the student with business experience.

HERO, ICE, COE, DE, and AG are all in the cooperative education program at FCHS. These classes range from Home Ec to Agriculture, and are all enjoyed by the students.

THE MOMENTS
MADE THE YEAR . . .

. . . Moments of inspiration and contemplation, of spirit, and of music, of good times and not so good times. The moments came together to make the year, and the year became a memory, ever to be a part of us.

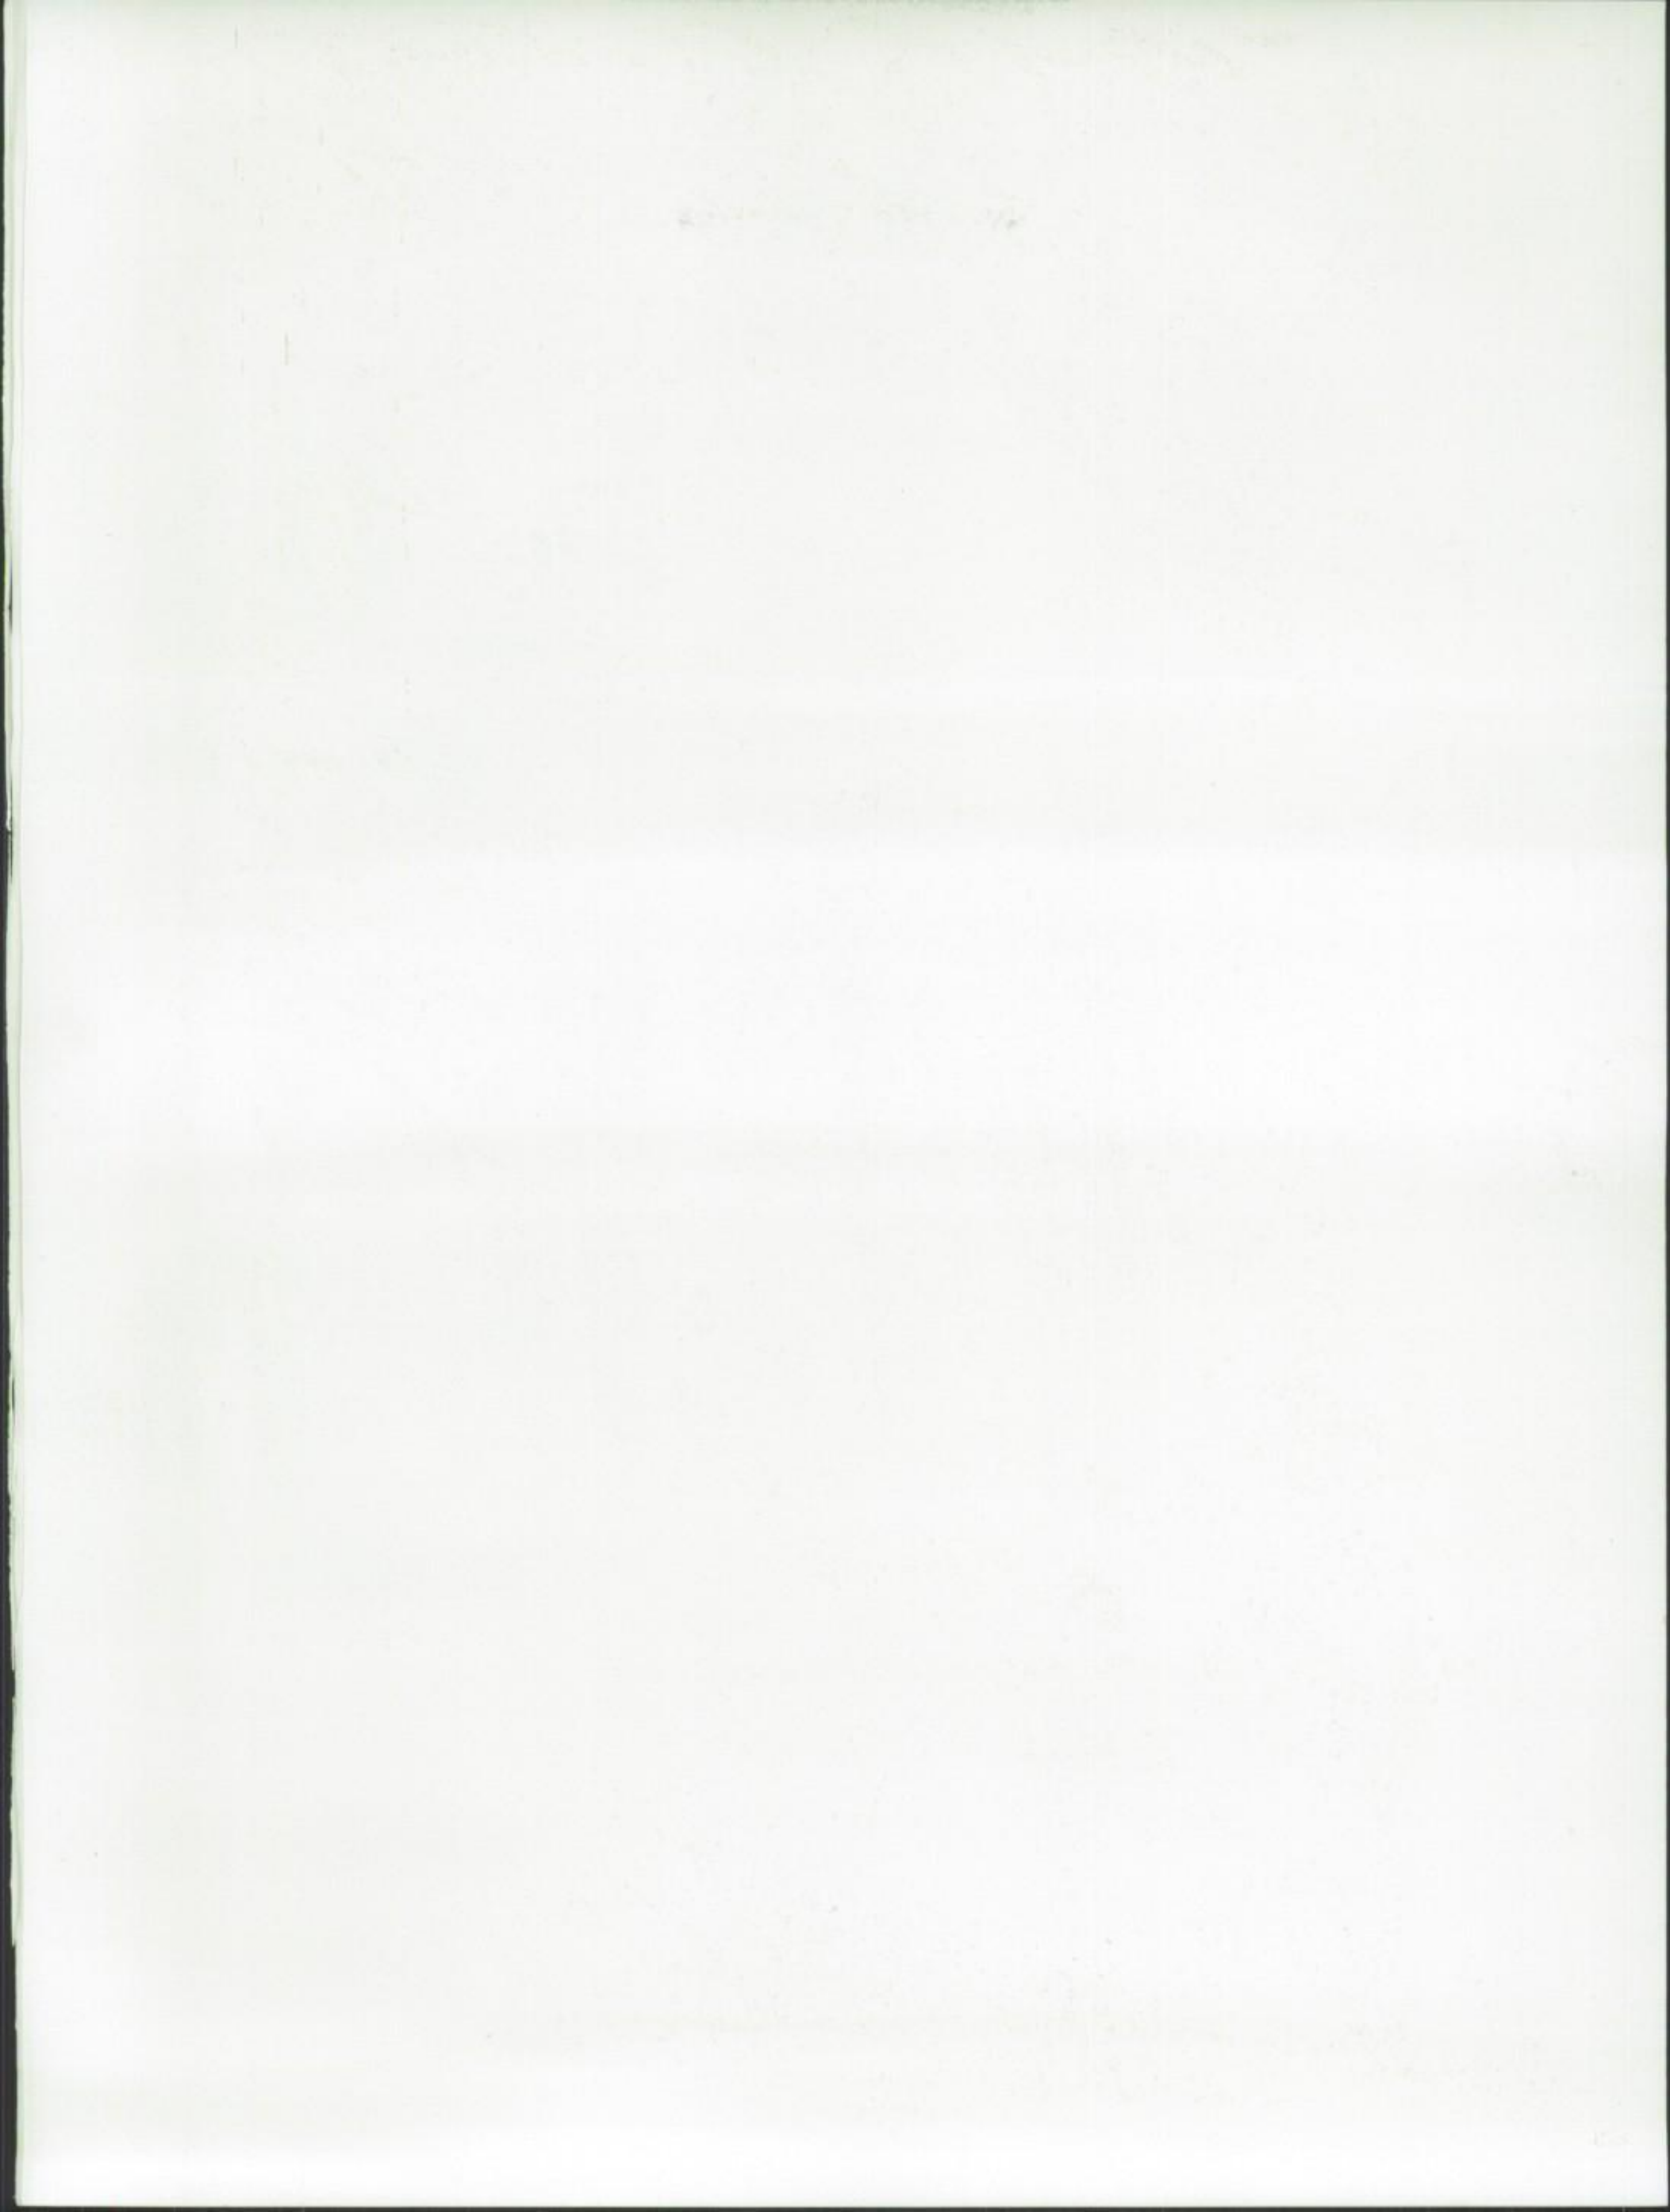

We must not live in these years, nor regret them. We must go on with their memory inside us, to reflect upon and to inspire.

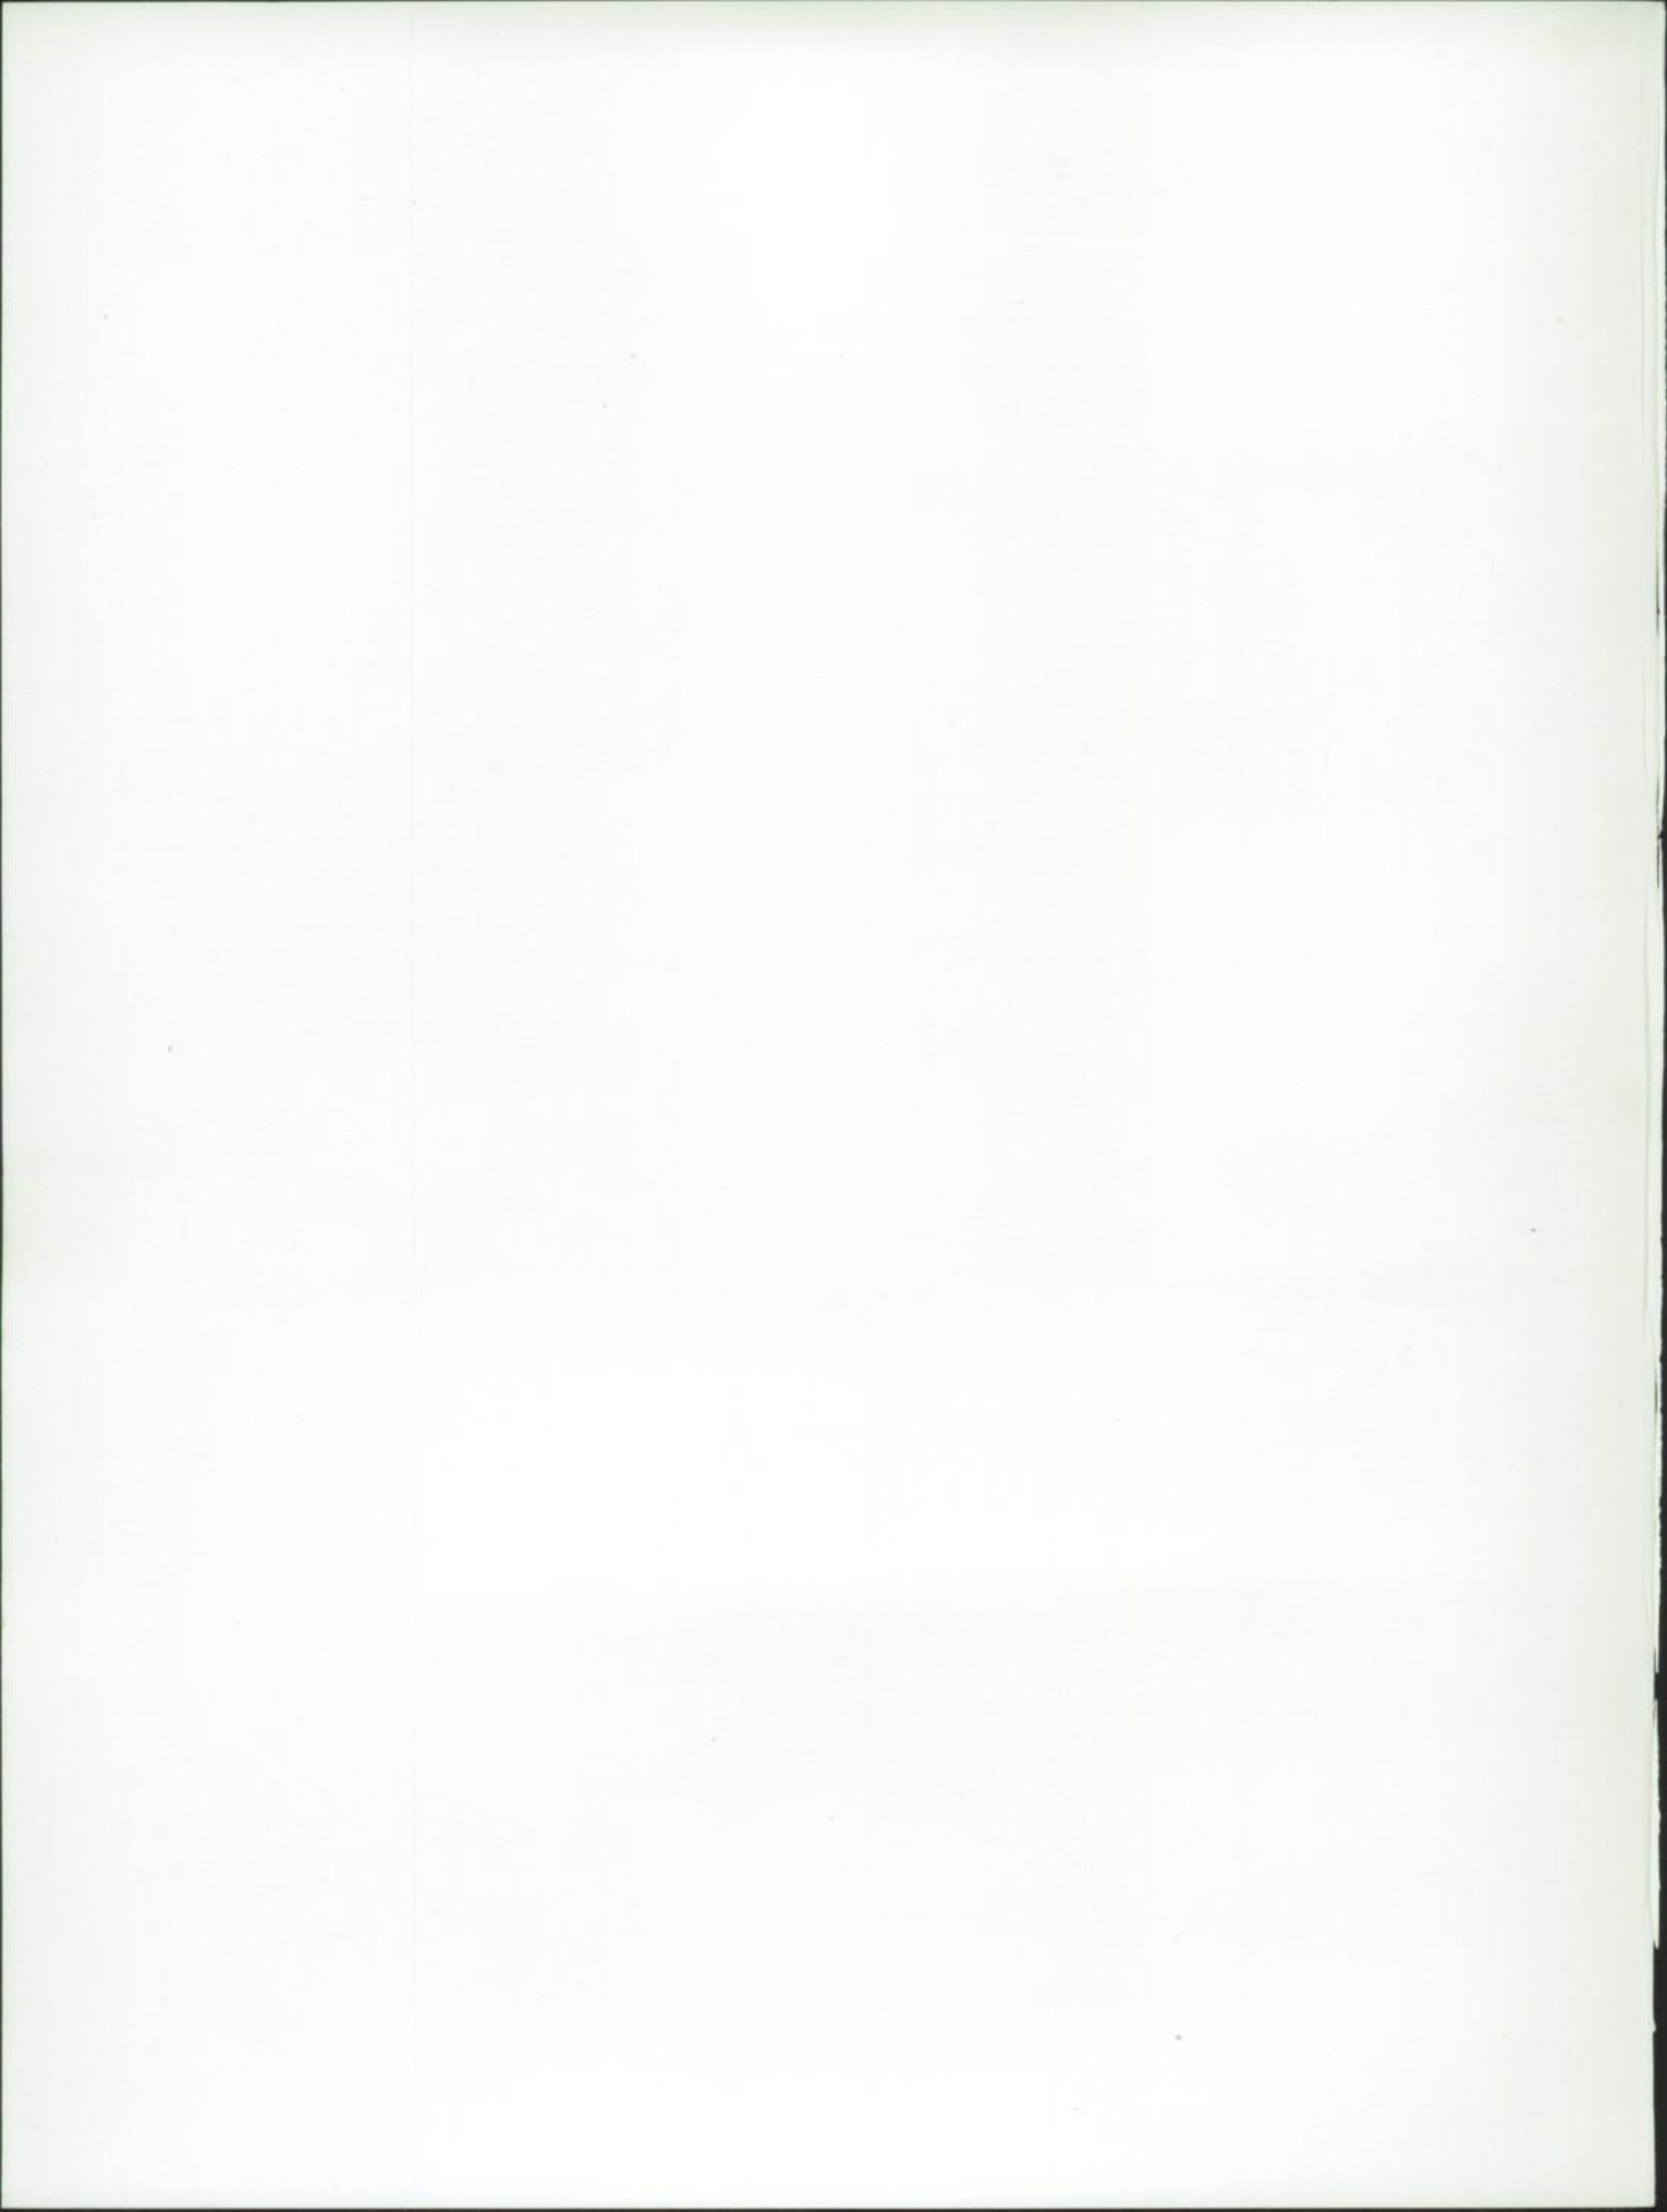

Our lives have just begun. We must use what we have learned at Fort Collins High School, and continue on our way . . .

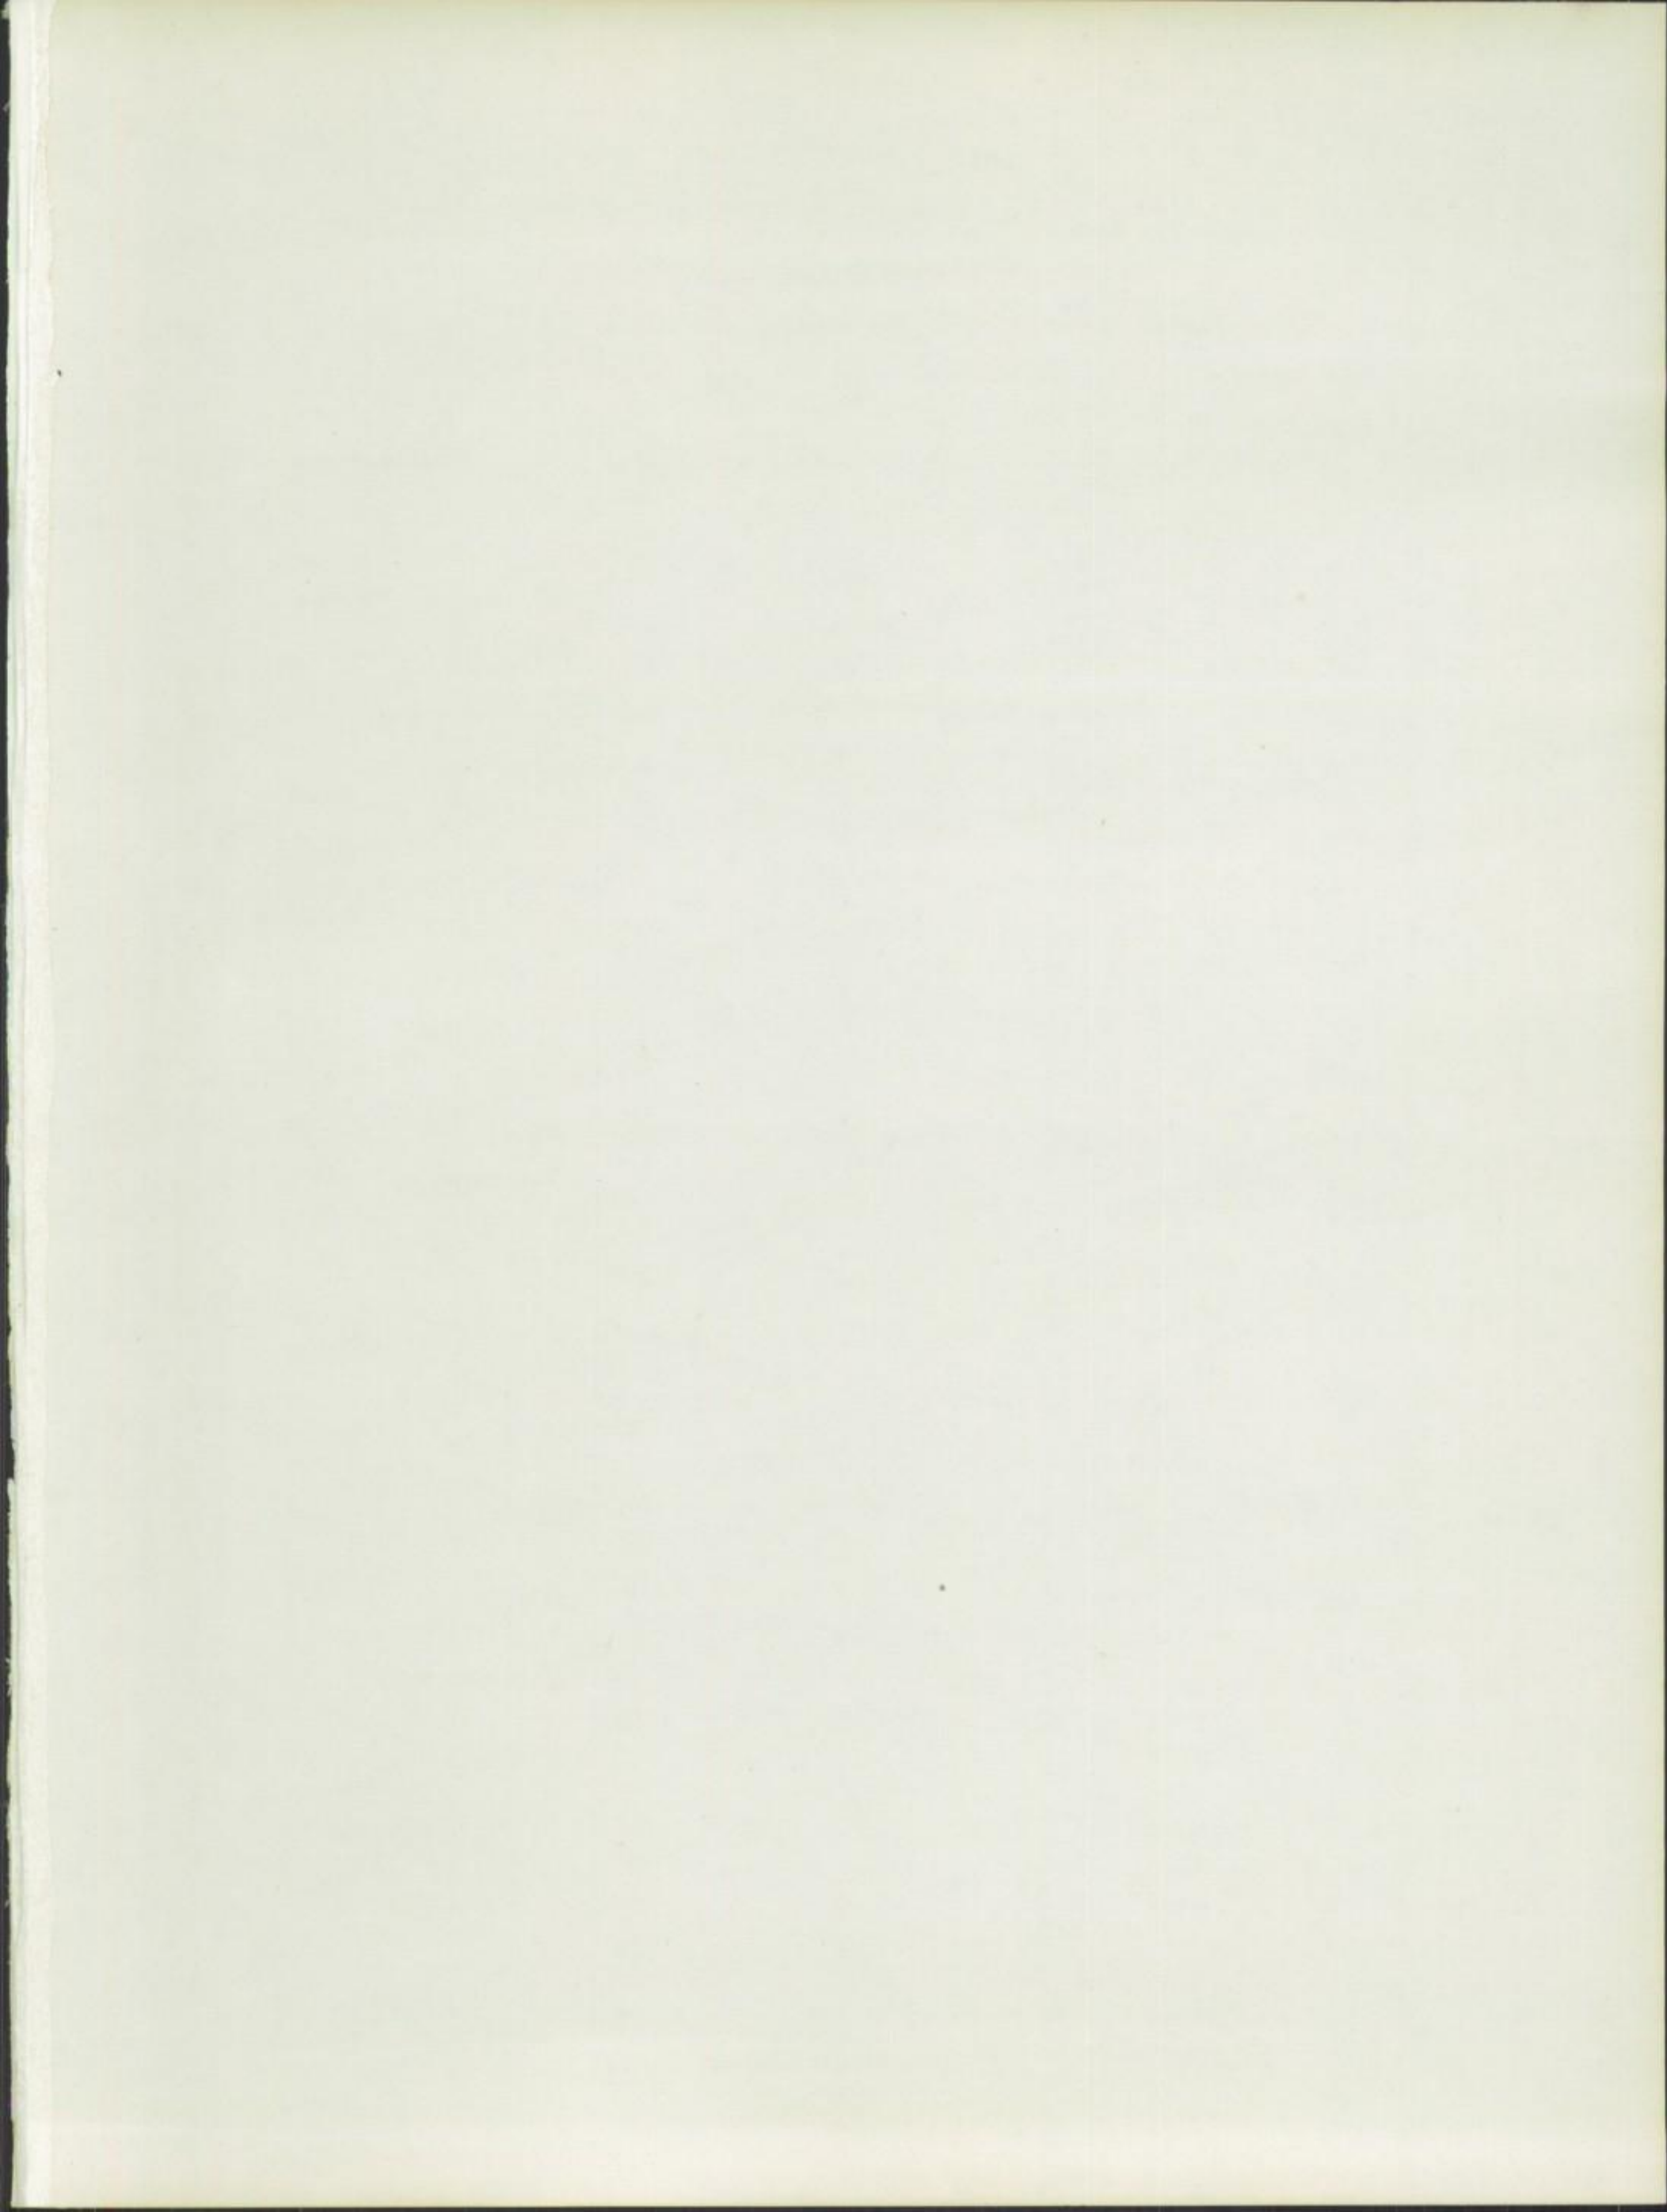

*a new day,
has begun...*
